Demos Surge Toward Firm Congress Control

Rockefeller Captures N.Y. Governorship

Democratic Tide Mounts; Knowland Trails In California

He defeated Republican Arthur T. McGonigle, Reading, Pa., pretzel manufacturer.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) —Democrat Michael V. DiSalle, in a great personal comeback, Tuesday night was elected governor of Ohio.

By The Associated Press

But in an East-West drama, a new Republican star was born in New York while an old one seemed headed for eclipse in California.

Nelson A. Rockefeller, the Republican millionaire who trudged the sidewalks of New York in quest of votes, decisively ousted Democrat Averell Harriman from the governor's chair.

This rocketed Rockefeller into presidential speculation for 1960. It seemingly doomed Harriman's chances for the Democratic nomination, and clouded Vice President Richard M. Nixon's prospects for the GOP presidential prize.

From the West came returns showing William F. Knowland, Republican, trailed Democratic Pat Brown in a crucial contest for governor. Knowland gave up the Senate Republican leadership to make this race, and his prospects for consideration at the 1960 GOP presidential convention hinged on the outcome.

Demos Bolster Control

As for Congress, Democrats quickly clinched control of the Senate. They swept on toward strengthened command of that chamber and also of the House.

Associated Press returns at 11:55 p.m. EST showed that Democrats had elected 16 senators to one for the Republicans.

With 220 House races settled, Democrats had upset 13 Republicans and lost no seats to the opposition.

Democrats also were leading in 60 districts, Republicans were ahead in 75.

At that point, Democrats had elected 182 members to the House, the Republicans 38.

Democrats elected 13; Republicans elected 2.

W. Va. Republicans Upset

The Democrats took over Republican Senate seats in Indiana, Connecticut and West Virginia—both GOP incumbents in West Virginia were defeated—and built up leads in at least seven other states.

The Democratic tide ran so strongly that all six Republicans House members from Connecticut went down to defeat along with GOP Sen. William A. Purtell, who lost his seat to Democrat Thomas J. Dodd.

As of midnight, the Democrats had elected 195 members of the House and the Republicans 42. Fifteen formerly Republican seats had shifted to the Democrats. Rock-ribbed Republican Vermont sent a Democrat to Congress for the first time in 106 years.

Democrats won sure control of the Senate — 50 seats is a majority — when West Virginia Senators Chapman Revercomb and John D. Hoblitzell Jr. went down to defeat at the hands of Democrats Robert C. Byrd and Jennings Randolph.

Bomber Toting Atomic Weapon Crashes, Burns

ABILENE, Tex. (UPI)—A B47 bomber with a nuclear weapon in its racks caught fire Tuesday as it took off and crashed five miles from the end of Dyess Air Force Base runway.

The plane blew up when it hit the ground and scattered wreckage for a quarter-of-a-mile, but the nuclear device did not explode.

The Air Force said there was no contamination of the area.

An enlisted man was killed, but three officers used their seat ejection apparatus to safely bail out.

Jet assisted takeoff (JATO) bottles on the fuselage of the plane exploded as it took off, setting fire to the plane.

Observers in the Dyess control tower radioed the pilot that the tail of the plane was burning. There was nothing he and the other crewmen could do except stay with the plane until it was high enough to bail out safely.

The Air Force, in a statement released at Dyess AFB and in Washington, said all personnel were barred from the crash area in the interest of safety though "there was no atomic explosion and no danger of an atomic explosion."

"A potential danger in an incident of this type would be possible contamination of a small area if the high explosive charge was completely destroyed," the statement said. "In this instance, no harmful contamination or explosion resulted."

The survivors — Maj. Don E. Youngmark of Dixon, Ill., aircraft commander; Capt. John M. Gerding, Flint, Mich., pilot, and Capt. John M. Dowling, Brooklyn, N.Y., navigator - observer—bailed out when the flaming plane was 1,500 feet in the air.

Ike, Mamie Vote Swiftly

WASHINGTON (AP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower voted swiftly Tuesday—with such speed that it looked as if they both cast straight Republican ballots.

The President and the First Lady traveled separately to the polling place in their home precinct at Gettysburg, Pa. They have a farm on the edge of town.

Eisenhower was in and out of the voting booth in Barlow fire hall in just 24 seconds. But his wife was even faster. She took only 18 seconds.

They were both in smiling good humor. The First Lady put it this way about the President: "Oh, he's blooming this morning."

Eisenhower traveled from the White House to the polling place by helicopter. He voted at 10 a.m. EST, becoming the 86th person to cast a ballot at the fire hall. He was on the ground only 11 minutes before flying back to Washington.

Mrs. Eisenhower, who won't fly in a copter, arrived by automobile from the capital an hour later. She started back a few minutes after voting. They arranged to get election returns at the White House Tuesday evening, probably with family members and a few friends.

"$64,000 Question" Goes Into Ashcan

NEW YORK (AP) — Another television quiz show, "The $64,000 Question", went into the ashcan Tuesday. It was the first of the big money quiz programs.

The Columbia Broadcasting System announced the program had staged its final round Sunday.

It is being replaced by "Keep Talking," a comedy panel show, on the 10 to 10:30 p.m. period of CBS' Sunday night schedule.

"The $64,000 Question," which set off a trend in the industry when it was launched three and a half years ago, was the latest of several quiz shows to be abandoned.

U.N. Calls For Halt To A-Tests During Parley

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The General Assembly called on the United States, Britain and Russia Tuesday night to reach "early agreement" in Geneva on a controlled nuclear test suspension and refrain from tests while the negotiations are going on.

The 81-nation world parliament voted 49 to 9 with 22 abstentions for a comprehensive disarmament resolution proposed by the United States and 16 others.

The Soviet bloc opposed the measure because it did not call for "immediat' and unconditional" cessation of nuclear weapons tests regardless of the outcome of the Geneva talks.

The Russians have rejected an Anglo-American offer of a three-party agreement to suspend nuclear tests for a year, although diplomatic reports have said they might be going along with it tacitly. No Russian test explosions have been detected since the Geneva conference began last Friday.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, speaking before the vote, emphasized the part of the 17-power resolution that called on the nuclear powers to make "every effort to reach early agreement on nuclear test suspension."

He said if all three Geneva conferees heeded this call "they will, by agreeing to a verified stoppage of tests, take an initial step toward disarmament, and then the world will breathe easier."

He noted that the United States had, in fact, suspended its nuclear weapons tests as of last Friday and will keep this in force for a year if the Soviet Union does not continue testing.

"We hope that the Soviet Union will respond to the appeal of the General Assembly not to conduct nuclear weapons tests while the negotiations in Geneva are taking place," Lodge said. "We appeal to the Soviet Union to join us in this."

Smathers Thanks Voters For Demos

WASHINGTON (AP) — Without waiting for the polls to close in Tuesday's election, Sen. George A. Smathers of Florida, chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, issued a statement thanking the voters for an overwhelming Democratic victory.

The statement, delivered to the Senate Press Gallery at 5:40 p.m said: "We Democrats are deeply grateful to the American people for the overwhelming victories which we have won in today's election."

"I think most of us recognize that the enormity of this victory presents a considerable challenge to us Democrats for the next two years."

Cuba's President-Elect Will Try To End Revolt

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba's president-elect, Andres Rivero Aguero, said Tuesday he will try to bring peace to Cuba by ending the long and bloody rebellion led by Fidel Castro.

But any peace overtures face almost certain rejection. Castro had declared in advance that the election of Rivero Aguero would mean only a continuation of the policies of President Fulgencio Batista.

Castro tried to thwart Monday's election by boycott and threats, and apparently succeeded in scaring thousands away from the polls.

Rivero Aguero, a soft-spoken lawyer and long-time protege of Batista, is classified by Americans here as a good friend of the United States. He will take over Batista's job Feb. 24.

Army headquarters reported votes from 5,032 out of 8,521 precincts showed Rivero Aguero 651,859; Carlos Marquez Sterling 136,674; former President Ramon Grau San Martin 103,208; Alberto Salas Amaro 38,024.

It looked as if about half the 2,870,000 voters shunned the polls. The rebels, in boycotting the election, had warned that anyone who voted ran the risk of being shot.

W. Virginia Elects Byrd, Randolph

Incumbent GOP Senators Ousted By Wide Margins

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Democratic U. S. Senate candidates Robert C. Byrd and Jennings Randolph were swept into office Tuesday as part of a Democratic tide that engulfed West Virginia in Tuesday's off-year election.

With well over half of the vote tabulated unofficially, Byrd and Randolph led incumbent Republicans Chapman Revercomb and John D. Hoblitzell by overwhelming margins that appeared sure to pass the 100,000 mark. That mark had been exceeded only four times in state history.

State Republican Chairman Daniel L. Louchery conceded the election at 11 p.m., stating that "West Virginia is following a national trend. We congratulate our opponents as any good loser does."

The only Republican who apparently was standing firm against the Democratic sweep of major offices was 1st District Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr. of Moundsville, who led former Rep. Robert H. Mollohan of Fairmont by a narrow margin. The five other House seats were going to the Democrats.

Other Offices To Demos

Democrats captured the secretary of state's office and two Supreme Court seats in other statewide races, and were making substantial inroads into Republican minority holdings in the State Senate and House of Delegates.

In the two U. S. Senate races, unofficial returns from 2,151 of the state 2,806 precincts gave Revercomb 209,044 and Byrd 318,971; Hoblitzell 202,969 and Randolph 295,926.

Byrd, who has never lost an election in a legislative career going back to 1946, thus won his first statewide race at the age of 40. He is now completing his third term in the House of Representatives from the 6th District and is a resident of Sophia, Raleigh County.

For Randolph, the victory marked a political comeback after 12 years out of office. The Elkins businessman served seven straight terms in Congress from the 2nd District before losing in 1946, then became an airline executive in Washington. He did not again seek public office until this year.

Revercomb's Third Defeat

Revercomb's defeat was his third in five tries for the Senate. He was first elected in 1942, defeated in 1948 and again in 1952, then won an unexpired two - year term in 1956. Hoblitzell, former state GOP chairman appointed last January to replace the late M. M. Neely, was making is first statewide race for the unexpired two years of Neely's term.

In the 1st Congressional District, Moore led Mollohan by some 2,300 votes with more than half of the 422 precincts tabulated, a margin he had maintained throughout the early hours. Moore lost to Mollohan in 1954 then was elected two years later when Mollohan made an unsuccessful try for the governorship.

The other GOP House incumbent, Will E. Neal of Huntington, trailed former Marshall College political science teacher Ken Hechler by some 2,500 votes in another close race with 324 of 481 precincts tabulated.

Peiping Poison Shell Charges Branded Lies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department joined the Chinese Nationalists Tuesday in branding as "noxious lies" Red Chinese charges that 14 Communist soldiers were overcome by "poison gas" supplied by the United States.

Department Press Officer Lincoln White said the "lies," carried by Peiping radio, were in themselves enough to overcome the soldiers. The gas shells were supposed to have been fired by Nationalist forces on the offshore Quemoy islands.

White said it was difficult to say whether the charges were "an attempt to avert world attention" from the Communists' "promiscuous killing of civilians on Quemoy or whether the accusations are intended to justify this wanton killing."

Other officials speculated that the Communists might be making the charges as a pretext for using poison gas themselves.

Bomb Scare Delays Allegheny Airliners

BALTIMORE (AP) — Two Allegheny Airlines planes, one bound for New York, the other for Atlantic City, were delayed about an hour Tuesday by a bomb scare.

An airline spokesman said someone with a "childish voice" called National Airport at Washington and said there was a bomb aboard a plane.

A flight carrying 17 persons and bound for Atlantic City via Dover, Del., was searched at Baltimore's Friendship Airport. No bomb was found and the plane proceeded.

At Hagerstown, a plane bound for New York via Harrisburg, Pa. and carrying 27 persons was searched. Again nothing was found.

Foley, Sybert And Goldstein Cop Md. Races

BALTIMORE (AP)—In the face of sweeping Democratic gains elsewhere in Maryland, Republican J. Glenn Beall won re-election to the Senate Tuesday night by handing Democrat Thomas D'Alesandro his first defeat in 24 elections.

Democrat J. Millard Tawes scored an impressive victory over Republican James P. S. Devereux in the race for governor. Theodore R. McKeldin, the incumbent Republican, was ineligible for a third straight term.

For the first time since 1941, Democrats swept all seven House seats, three of which had been held by Republicans.

For senator, returns from all but one of the state's 1,339 polling places showed 379,600 votes for Beall to 365,669 for D'Alesandro.

These included returns from all but one in Baltimore City, where D'Alesandro is serving his third term as mayor, and the bulk of those still missing were in territory generally conceded to Beall.

For governor, 1,339 of 1,340 polling places gave Tawes 487,716, Devereux 272,070.

One of the biggest surprises came in the First District, which embraces the Eastern Shore of Chesapeake Bay. It gave Democrat Thomas F. Johnson, an international lawyer, a victory over Republican Edward T. Miller, who had been seeking his seventh straight term.

Foley Defeats Hyde

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland Democrats scored a sweep of all seven seats in the House of Representatives in Tuesday's elections.

It was the first time since 1941 that the Democrats won all available places from Maryland.

Two incumbent Republicans were knocked off in the Democratic surge. The third, James P. Devereux, stepped out to run for governor and the Democrats lected his replacement.

The major upset was scored by Thomas F. Johnson who finally ousted Edward T. Miller from the seat he had held for six terms from the Eastern Shore's First District.

Johnson defeated Miller by 695 votes, 32,097 to 31,042.

John P Foley took the measure of the other Republican incumbent, DeWitt S. Hyde, in the Sixth District. Foley won by 78,045 to 75,478 The seat surrendered by Devereux was in the Second District.

Daniel B. Brewster, retiring from the State House of Delegates, defeated GOP J. Fife Symington Jr. for the seat by a whopping 87,318 to 55,725.

The Democratic incumbents reelected were Edward A. Garmatz of the Third, George H. Fallon of the Fourth, Richard E. Lankford of the Fifth and Samuel N. Friedel of the Seventh.

Goldstein, Sybert Elected

BALTIMORE (AP)—The strong Democratic trend in Maryland's general election carried through Tuesday night in contests for comptroller and attorney general, with Louis Goldstein and C. Ferdinand Sybert winning election.

Goldstein, who retired as State Senate president to make the race for comptroller, defeated former Mayor John Derr of Frederick. Sybert's bid for reelection over Robert A. Wallace was successful.

In 1,339 of 1,340 polling places, the vote was 419,698 for Goldstein and 279,799 for Derr.

Phoebus Reelected

BALTIMORE (AP) — Democrats appeared Tuesday to have won 26 of the 29 places in the Maryland Senate and a corresponding majority in the House of Delegates for the next four years.

The Republicans had eight seats in the outgoing Senate. Of five seeking reelection, only Charles See of Allegany, who had no opposition, and Harry T. Phoebus of Somerset remain.

Pope John XXIII Crowned As Supreme Pontiff In Ancient Pomp And Ceremony

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church triumphantly crowned Pope John XXIII Tuesday as supreme pontiff and spiritual ruler.

Two hundred thousand people under the gray, threatening skies let out a mighty roar as the sharecropper's son who is Catholicism's 261st successor to St. Peter received the ponderous, three-tier tiara.

The crowning climaxed a 4½-hour ceremony that combined medieval splendor with equipment of the electronic age. It was held on the outdoor balcony of St. Peter's church, high over the heads of the cheering thousands.

Before that, the 76-year-old pontiff was the center of glittering pageantry inside, much of it celebrated at the same spot where burial services were held 22 days ago for Pius XII.

Then the services were awesome and sad. Tuesday there was glitter and triumph.

Thousands of electric lights and powerful floodlights blazed on the red and golden damask that draped the basilica as silver trumpets announced the arrival of the new Pope on his portable throne.

Purple-clad chair bearers set the pontiff down near a temporary throne, just to the right of the holy door—the door Pius XII opened and closed during the 1950 Holy Year.

Here, while special missions from free nations of the world looked on, cardinals of the church paid their homage.

Then, again to the notes of silver trumpets, the pontiff remounted his portable throne, and a slow procession into the church began.

Some 50,000 packed the church, including nobility of Rome and Europe, decked with jewels and medals, and 300 bishops and archbishops, all robed in white and gold and wearing white miters.

Inside also were several hundred people from Sotto il Monte, the little Italian town where the Pope was born. Others were from Venice, where Angelo Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli served as patriarch before becoming Pope.

Other Offices To Demos

Democrats captured the secretary of state's office and two Supreme Court seats in other statewide races, and were making substantial inroads into Republican minority holdings in the State Senate and House of Delegates.

In the two U. S. Senate races, unofficial returns from 2,151 of the state 2,806 precincts gave Revercomb 209,044 and Byrd 318,971; Hoblitzell 202,969 and Randolph 295,926.

Byrd, who has never lost an election in a legislative career going back to 1946, thus won his first statewide race at the age of 40. He is now completing his third term in the House of Representatives from the 6th District and is a resident of Sophia, Raleigh County.

For Randolph, the victory marked a political comeback after 12 years out of office. The Elkins businessman served seven straight terms in Congress from the 2nd District before losing in 1946, then became an airline executive in Washington. He did not again seek public office until this year.

Revercomb's Third Defeat

Revercomb's defeat was his third in five tries for the Senate. He was first elected in 1942, defeated in 1948 and again in 1952, then won an unexpired two - year term in 1956. Hoblitzell, former state GOP chairman appointed last January to replace the late M. M. Neely, was making is first statewide race for the unexpired two years of Neely's term.

In the 1st Congressional District, Moore led Mollohan by some 2,300 votes with more than half of the 422 precincts tabulated, a margin he had maintained throughout the early hours. Moore lost to Mollohan in 1954 then was elected two years later when Mollohan made an unsuccessful try for the governorship.

The other GOP House incumbent, Will E. Neal of Huntington, trailed former Marshall College political science teacher Ken Hechler by some 2,500 votes in another close race with 324 of 481 precincts tabulated.

Foley, Sybert And Goldstein Cop Md. Races

BALTIMORE (AP)—In the face of sweeping Democratic gains elsewhere in Maryland, Republican J. Glenn Beall won re-election to the Senate Tuesday night by handing Democrat Thomas D'Alesandro his first defeat in 24 elections.

Democrat J. Millard Tawes scored an impressive victory over Republican James P. S. Devereux in the race for governor. Theodore R. McKeldin, the incumbent Republican, was ineligible for a third straight term.

For the first time since 1941, Democrats swept all seven House seats, three of which had been held by Republicans.

For senator, returns from all but one of the state's 1,339 polling places showed 379,600 votes for Beall to 365,669 for D'Alesandro.

These included returns from all but one in Baltimore City, where D'Alesandro is serving his third term as mayor, and the bulk of those still missing were in territory generally conceded to Beall.

For governor, 1,339 of 1,340 polling places gave Tawes 487,716, Devereux 272,070.

One of the biggest surprises came in the First District, which embraces the Eastern Shore of Chesapeake Bay. It gave Democrat Thomas F. Johnson, an international lawyer, a victory over Republican Edward T. Miller, who had been seeking his seventh straight term.

Foley Defeats Hyde

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland Democrats scored a sweep of all seven seats in the House of Representatives in Tuesday's elections.

It was the first time since 1941 that the Democrats won all available places from Maryland.

Two incumbent Republicans were knocked off in the Democratic surge. The third, James P. Devereux, stepped out to run for governor and the Democrats lected his replacement.

The major upset was scored by Thomas F. Johnson who finally ousted Edward T. Miller from the seat he had held for six terms from the Eastern Shore's First District.

Johnson defeated Miller by 695 votes, 32,097 to 31,042.

John F Foley took the measure of the other Republican incumbent, DeWitt S. Hyde, in the Sixth District. Foley won by 78,045 to 75,478 The seat surrendered by Devereux was in the Second District.

Daniel B. Brewster, retiring from the State House of Delegates, defeated GOP J. Fife Symington Jr. for the seat by a whopping 87,318 to 55,725.

The Democratic incumbents re-elected were Edward A. Garmatz of the Third, George H. Fallon of the Fourth, Richard E. Lankford of the Fifth and Samuel N. Friedel of the Seventh.

Goldstein, Sybert Elected

BALTIMORE (AP)—The strong Democratic trend in Maryland's general election carried through Tuesday night in contests for comptroller and attorney general, with Louis Goldstein and C. Ferdinand Sybert winning election.

Goldstein, who retired as State Senate president to make the race for comptroller, defeated former Mayor John Derr of Frederick. Sybert's bid for reelection over Robert A. Wallace was successful.

In 1,339 of 1,340 polling places, the vote was 419,698 for Goldstein and 279,799 for Derr.

Phoebus Reelected

BALTIMORE (AP) — Democrats appeared Tuesday to have won 26 of the 29 places in the Maryland Senate and a corresponding majority in the House of Delegates for the next four years.

The Republicans had eight seats in the outgoing Senate. Of five seeking reelection, only Charles See of Allegany, who had no opposition, and Harry T. Phoebus of Somerset remain.

Peiping Poison Shell Charges Branded Lies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department joined the Chinese Nationalists Tuesday in branding as "noxious lies" Red Chinese charges that 14 Communist soldiers were overcome by "poison gas" supplied by the United States.

Department Press Officer Lincoln White said the "lies," carried by Peiping radio, were in themselves enough to overcome the soldiers. The gas shells were supposed to have been fired by Nationalist forces on the offshore Quemoy islands.

White said it was difficult to say whether the charges were "an attempt to avert world attention" from the Communists' "promiscuous killing of civilians on Quemoy or whether the accusations are intended to justify this wanton killing."

Other officials speculated that the Communists might be making the charges as a pretext for using poison gas themselves.

Bomb Scare Delays Allegheny Airliners

BALTIMORE (AP) — Two Allegheny Airlines planes, one bound for New York, the other for Atlantic City, were delayed about an hour Tuesday by a bomb scare.

An airline spokesman said someone with a "childish voice" called National Airport at Washington and said there was a bomb aboard a plane.

A flight carrying 17 persons and bound for Atlantic City via Dover, Del., was searched at Baltimore's Friendship Airport. No bomb was found and the plane proceeded.

At Hagerstown, a plane bound for New York via Harrisburg, Pa. and carrying 27 persons was searched. Again nothing was found.

Coronation On TV

LONDON (AP) — Catholics throughout Europe watched the Pope's coronation on TV Tuesday. It was a TV first.

Two hundred thousand people under the gray, threatening skies let out a mighty roar as the sharecropper's son who is Catholicism's 261st successor to St. Peter received the ponderous, three-tier tiara.

The crowning climaxed a 4½-hour ceremony that combined medieval splendor with equipment of the electronic age. It was held on the outdoor balcony of St. Peter's church, high over the heads of the cheering thousands.

Before that, the 76-year-old pontiff was the center of glittering pageantry inside, much of it celebrated at the same spot where burial services were held 22 days ago for Pius XII.

Then the services were awesome and sad. Tuesday there was glitter and triumph.

Thousands of electric lights and powerful floodlights blazed on the red and golden damask that draped the basilica as silver trumpets announced the arrival of the new Pope on his portable throne.

Purple-clad chair bearers set the pontiff down near a temporary throne, just to the right of the holy door—the door Pius XII opened and closed during the 1950 Holy Year.

Here, while special missions from free nations of the world looked on, cardinals of the church paid their homage.

Then, again to the notes of silver trumpets, the pontiff remounted his portable throne, and a slow procession into the church began.

Some 50,000 packed the church, including nobility of Rome and Europe, decked with jewels and medals, and 300 bishops and archbishops, all robed in white and gold and wearing white miters.

Inside also were several hundred people from Sotto il Monte, the little Italian town where the Pope was born. Others were from Venice, where Angelo Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli served as patriarch before becoming Pope.

Helicopter Rescues Two In Belgian Airport Fire

ZAVENTEM, Belgium (AP) — Fire destroyed the heart of Belgium's new National Airport Tuesday night and set the scene for a dramatic helicopter rescue of people trapped in the control tower.

The fire was believed to have started in a small oil stove explosion.

Officials said the helicopter flown over the flames by Sabena Air Line's chief helicopter pilot, Robert Tremerie, saved two persons.

They had been stranded beyond the reach of fire ladders. Others trapped at lower levels were believed to have escaped.

The property loss apparently was tremendous.

Communications Minister P. W. Segers said: "The Belgian state is its own insurer and this is going to cost a terrible amount of money."

An official said only known casualties were firemen and workers who suffered bruises and cuts in rescue work.

The airport's intricate electronic communication system was knocked out by short circuits.

It's Small World; Woman Rescued By Her Neighbor

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Ben Cargo of Youngstown, Ohio, heard a cry for help Tuesday at a beach near Sarasota. He saw a woman drifting seaward in an innertube and went to her rescue.

Safely ashore, Cargo discovered he rescued Mrs. Earl Bancroft, a neighbor at Youngstown. The Cargos and Bancrofts belong to the same church and were staying at the same motel in Sarasota. Neither knew the other family was vacationing in Florida.

Labor Union Trio Indicted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A federal grand jury Tuesday indicted West Coast Teamsters official Clyde C. Crosby on charges he lied before the Senate Rackets Committee in 1957.

The jury also returned perjury indictments against two officials of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers International. They were Frank H. Mykalo of Chicago, a vice president, and Frank G. Gardone of McKees Rocks, Pa., an organizer.

Crosby, of Portland, Ore., was a key witness in opening phases of the Senate Rackets group's investigation into alleged West Coast tie-ups between the Teamsters Unions and gambling and hoodlum elements.

In announcing the one-count indictment against him today, the Justice Department said Crosby was charged with falsely denying he met James B. Elkins, a Portland gambler, and Thomas J. Sheridan, an enforcement official of the Oregon Liquor Control Commission, in November, 1954.

The grand jury charged Mykalo on three counts and Gardone on two. It said the two lied when they told the grand jury Bakers' Union President James G. Cross was not present during a San Francisco hotel fracas in October, 1956.

Accused Boy Admits Killing Friend For $6

JOLIET, Ill. (UPI) — Five one-dollar bills and a silver dollar drove a frail, 12-year-old boy to kill his schoolmate with bullets through the head and abdomen, investigators said Tuesday.

The accused boy killer, Raleigh Robinette was locked up in Will County Jail following a lie detector test in Chicago Monday night.

Sheriff Roy Doerfler and lie detector expect John Reid said Raleigh, a spindly 84-pounder, told in matter-of-fact tone and vivid detail how he killed his friend, David Benson, 12, in a patch of woods near his home on Haloween eve.

Raleigh's parents refused to believe the authorities. His father, Russell, 42, insisted "I know he didn't do it . . . they did something to him . . ." He refused to let his son sign a statement.

Reid quoted Raleigh as saying he walked home from school with David Friday, took his fathers' pistol from an attic hiding place, and then walked with his friend into the woods.

'David always taunted and heckled me," Reid quoted the boy as saying. "He always pestered me to do his homework and kept after me until I'd do it. If I had something, he always wanted to buy it . . .

"He showed me his money, including a silver dollar. I was mad at David and I wanted his money."

Raleigh said he put two bullets in his gun while David knelt to tie his shoe, Reid said, and "when David straightened up I shot him in the stomach."

Reid said Raleigh told how David staggered about 35 feet, crying "Ral—I'll give you anything I've got." The wounded boy held out five one-dollar bills and a out five one-dollar bills and a said "I took it all—then I shot him again, in the head-David fell down in the ditch," Reid recounted.

Boy's Operation, Opposed By His Parents, Success

BALTIMORE (AP)—A brain operation on a 7-year-old boy, performed over the objections of his parents, was termed completely successful Tuesday.

A tumor was removed Aug. 29 from the brain of young Robert Spiller Jr. He had recovered sufficiently to leave City Hospitals Tuesday.

Court action was required for the operation because Robert's parents are members of a religious group—Jehovah's Witnesses—that does not permit blood transfusions.

Judge E. Paul Mason had given temporary custody of the boy to the Public Welfare Department after hearing medical testimony that the boy faced blindness and possible death without the operation. It turned out that the boy needed only a small amount of blood.

Sinatra's Car Ran Him Down, Photographer Says

NEW YORK (UPI) —A 26-year-old photographer told police Tuesday that Frank Sinatra ordered his chauffeur to run him down when he tried to take a picture of the singer leaving a Manhattan night club early Tuesday. Sinatra denied the charge.

Mel Finkelstein, photographer for the New York Journal-American, said the fender of the Sinatra limousine grazed his leg, sending him spinning onto the sidewalk, then sped away with siren wailing.

The incident occurred as Sinatra was leaving the Harwyn Club with a party that included comedian Joe E. Lewis and model Nan Whitney. Miss Whitney has dated the singer frequently since his return last week from London, where he and Lady Beatty had been a romantic topic.

Finkelstein said that Sinatra became angry when a reporter called him "Frank" instead of "Mr. Sinatra" as he left the club.

He said Sinatra told him not to take any pictures, but he tried to take some shots anyway from the curb in front of the Sinatra car. He said Sinatra ordered his chauffeur to drive ahead, and the car sped toward him and sideswiped him before he could jump clear.

Vets Unhurt As Jet Smashes Hospital

MANILA (UPI) — A Philippine air force Sabre jet plane crashed through two wards of a veterans' hospital in suburban Quezon City Tuesday. All 80 patients assigned to the wards escaped injury.

They were in another part of the hospital watching a movie.

AF 'Sled' Hits 2,853 MPH

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force disclosed Tuesday it has sent a rocket-powered test vehicle along a New Mexico research track at a peak speed of 2,853 miles an hour. That is about 4.8 times the speed of sound.

A spokesman for the Air Research and Development Command said this was believed to be the fastest a man-made device ever traveled on the earth's surface.

The disclosure of the test run on the 35,000-foot track at Holloman Air Force Base last September came in reply to questions concerning a news release on another run over the single-rail track Oct. 29. In that test a 2,000-pound rocket sled, with a 165-pound dummy aboard, sped 1,200 miles an hour.

The American Legion was organized in Paris, France, back in 1919.

Four Die In Md. Auto Crashes

By The Associated Press

Four fatalities, including three in one accident, have jumped the Maryland highway death total to 409 for the year.

A two-car crash on Fort Smallwood road at Clearwater Beach, Anne Arundel County, Monday night killed Charles L. Pailer, 60, of Fort Smallwood; his wife, Mrs. Helen Pailer, 4r, and Alvin C. Born, 17, of Pasadena.

The other victim was John Smelter, 60, of Baltimore, who was struck by an auto Monday night.

Police said a car driven by Clarence W. Stinchcomb Jr. of Pasadena was traveling north at a high rate of speed when it hit the right front of the vehicle operated by Pailer. All occupants of both cars were hurled out by the impact.

Born was riding with Stinchcomb, who suffered a head injury. Another passenger, William Knight, 20, of Pasadena also had a head injury.

Higher Parking Rates For Bigger Cars Considered

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore garage operators are going to take another look at those longer, wider 1959 model cars.

Samuel Winik, president of the Baltimore Parking Operators Assn., said Tuesday he's against higher parking rates for the new jobs but the question undoubtedly will come up at an association meeting Wednesday.

Winik's firm, Haar - Win, is against increasing the rates because "we don't feel it would be appropriate to penalize motorists just because they bought big cars."

One North Calvert street lot operator took a different stand. He claimed he stands to lose about $300 a month as the bigger cars cut the total number that can be parked at one time.

ELECTIONS MEANINGLESS

BERLIN (UPI)—The East German Communist party newspaper Neues Deutschland said Tuesday the elections in the United States were meaningless because both the Democratic and Republican parties represented "monopoly."

Airman Flying Guns Arrested At Morgantown

Allegedly Collected For Cuban Rebels

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) —A Florida pilot flying a cargo of arms allegedly collected for Cuban rebels was arrested Tuesday after he landed his two-engine plane here for refueling.

West Virginia State Police and Monongalia County authorities had been notified by federal agents to watch for the craft and arrested Stuart Sutor, 34, of Miami, Fla., after he refueled his Beechcraft with 147 gallons of gasoline.

Monongalia County Sheriff Charles J. Whiston said Sutor's plane had taken on 147 gallons of gasoline, "enough for a 1,000 - mile air trip—possibly to Cuba."

Peter J. Grootendorst, an agent of the Border Patrol Air Intelligence Service, and another agent followed Sutor from Butler, Pa., more than 100 miles north of here, in a single-engine Piper Cub and landed right behind him.

Sutor was taken into custody and held in the Monongalia County jail on a federal charge of transporting firearms without a permit. Further action awaited the arrival of customs officials from Philadelphia Tuesday night.

Whiston said the plane contained a load of M-1 rifles and at least one .50 caliber machine gun, all were covered with burlap. The plane was sealed pending arrival of other government officials.

Whiston said Sutor, who he said refused to make any statement, was in Pittsburgh Monday night and apparently landed at another smaller field not far from here Tuesday morning before coming to Morgantown at noon to refuel.

The sheriff said the plane piloted by Sutor was owned by "Dupont Air Interests" of Miami.

Earlier Tuesday, three automobiles carrying heavily armed Pennsylvania state troopers sped from Butler, Pa., to Culmerville, Pa., airport, about 28 miles northeast of Pittsburgh. State police would say only that the action "dealt with a federal investigation" and was a "dry run." But it obviously was connected with the arms-carrying plane.

Pennsylvania State Police Capt. Eugene Fontaine said the federal investigation had been underway for some time. He explained the action of his men by saying "when we see a thing of this kind, we go into action."

Whiston said it had not been determined definitely that the arms were destined for Cuban rebels but "the set-up looks similar to other planes which have been smuggling guns to the rebels."

Bids Asked On Two D.C. Area Bridges

BALTIMORE (AP) — Bids will be received Nov. 18 on construction of two bridges which will form an important part of the new Washington Circumferential Highway.

The State Roads Commission, in announcing this Tuesday, said the bridges will be erected over Sligo Creek Parkway north of Silver Spring and on Colesville road (U. S. 29) near the intersection of U.S. 29 and Maryland 193.

Bids will be asked later for construction of a three mile section of the highway between the Baltimore - Washington Parkway and the John Hanson Highway.

Construction Costs Due To Continue Rise

NEW YORK (AP) — A dollar spent for building before the war would buy only 40 cents worth of construction now, a construction news firm estimated Tuesday.

Reporting on a semiannual cost survey, F. W. Dodge Corp. predicted that building costs will continue upward and in a year will be five per cent higher. The firm figures materials and labor costs since 1941 have jumped 152 per cent.

This means that a builder must put up $2.52 to do the work one dollar did 17 years ago.

HEAVY DRINKING

MUNICH, Germany (UPI) — A record 5,500,000 persons drank 6,185,750 gallons of beer during the 16 days of Munich's Oktoberfest, it was announced Tuesday. In addition, the visitors to the giant fairgrounds drank 5,500 quarts of spirits, 7,000 quarts of wine and 2,000 bottles of champagne.

French Election Campaign Under Way

PARIS (UPI)—The French parliamentary election campaign got under way Monday with the Communists facing a tough fight to win seats under the new electoral law.

Official campaigning for the election that will help Premier Charles de Gaulle chart the course of the new Fifth Republic began at midnight. The Communists jumped the gun with two mass meetings last week.

The nation will elect a 465-seat Chamber of Deputies Sunday, Nov. 23. Runoff elections will be held Nov. 30 in those constituencies where a candidate does not receive an absolute majority in the first round. There are 2,978 candidates, an average of six for each available seat.

Indications were for a fiercely-fought campaign. The Communists in particular were out to show that they still are a major force in French politics despite their trouncing Sept. 28 when De Gaulle's new constitution won overwhelming approval.

More than a million voters deserted the Communist cause in the constitutional referendum. If the trend continues, the Reds could lose one third of the 142 seats they held in the old assembly. Their block of Assembly seats was the largest single group.

A total of 18 parties have entered candidates for the election, despite calls from prominent leaders for amalgamation of splinter groups.

Old Farmer's Almanac Sees Mild Winter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Old Abe Weatherwise has climbed out on his 167th limb.

He predicted a milder winter than usual, a wet spring and a hot Fourth of July.

The 112-page almanac, printed in the same format as the first one ever turned out, contains information gleaned from 400,000 separate calculations. There are the best moon dates for fishing and planting and the most favorable signs of the zodiac for getting permanent waves.

"For tooth extraction, G'm (Gemini), Vir (Virgo), Sgr (Sagittarius), Cap. (Capricorn), and Psc (Pisces seem best," the almanac said.

It recommended the signs of Taurus, Leo or Aquarius for permanents.

But to get back to Abe Weatherwise. In general, he was cheery in his forecasts. He said it's going to be a milder winter than usual.

That is a forecast Abe seldom makes, but he seems to have reason to figure there will be much less snowfall than usual this winter.

For this month, Abe foresees a temperature of 35-40 degrees—1 to 5 over normal — 2 inches of snow and 6 to 8 inches of rain.

But, he warned, that forecast holds true only for Boston. Anyone who wants to know how the weather will be anywhere else will have to figure it out for himself.

"It will work for other places by subtracting one day for each time zone west, by reading 5 degrees lower temperature for every 100 miles north of 42 latitude or 5 degrees higher for every 100 miles south of 42 latitude north and by considering every 1,000 feet of altitude is five degrees cooler," the almanac instructed.

Got it?

Well, December is going to be about 10 degrees colder than November — in Boston and points west — and a thaw will set in late in January, according to Mr. Weatherwise.

From then on, it will be uphill sledding, with the moon most favorable for barley planting in the Boston and Philadelphia areas around March 15 and between Feb. 15 and March 7 down Georgia way, the almanac instructed.

GOVERNMENT RESIGNS

BRUSSELS (UPI) — The Social Christian government of Premier Gaston Eyskens resigned Tuesday to make way for a coalition regime with the Liberal Party. Eyskens turned over his resignation to King Baudouin.

HEAVY ABSENTEE VOTE

TOKYO (UPI) — U.S. military authorities Tuesday reported "heavy" absentee balloting by members of the armed forces and their families in the American elections.

Nylon Horseshoes, Kapok Substitute Didn't Pay Off

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — When research succeeds, you may get an atomic bomb, a moon rocket, a Salk vaccine.

But it doesn't always succeed, said Charles H. Rutledge of the Du Pont Co., which spends about 50 million dollars a week on research. In a speech before the Charlotte Engineers Club Monday Rutledge showed the other side of the ledger.

Rutledge's examples dealt with a scientist who liked to play the horses, and a pile of kapok.

Nylon is one-third the weight of steel. In horse racing, officials weigh the bridle, saddle and other equipment, but not the shoes. Ergo, the scientist deduced, a horse wearing nylon shoes would have an advantage on one length per furlong over a horse wearing the metal shoes.

The scientist produced the nylon horseshoes, but the idea flopped because blacksmiths didn't think much of the idea.

When World War II started, a frantic Washington official decided that there was going to be a shortage of kapok—a floating fiber used in life preservers. The government asked Du Pont to develop a substitute.

The company's researchers came up with Bubble-Fill, a cross between cellophane and rayon.

Then, said Rutledge, somebody discovered "mountains of kapok" stored in this country.

With Bubble-Fill more expensive than kapok, Du Pont was stuck with a stockpile of its development. Not all was lost, however; the Bubble-Fill wound up in toys that float in a bathtub.

RELATIVES AT CORONATION

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John's three brothers and at least 25 nieces, nephews and grandnieces and grand nephews viewed the coronation on a special stand.

CABLES CONGRATULATIONS

TRADITIONAL WORDS

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Nicola Cardinal Canali placed the triple crown of the papacy on the head of the Pope Tuesday with these traditional words in Latin: "Receive this tiara adorned with three crowns and know that thou art father of princes and kings, guide of the world, vicar of Jesus Christ our savior to whom is honor and glory without end."

French Election Campaign Under Way

PARIS (UPI)—The French parliamentary election campaign got under way Monday with the Communists facing a tough fight to win seats under the new electoral law.

Official campaigning for the election that will help Premier Charles de Gaulle chart the course of the new Fifth Republic began at midnight. The Communists jumped the gun with two mass meetings last week.

The nation will elect a 465-seat Chamber of Deputies Sunday, Nov. 23. Runoff elections will be held Nov. 30 in those constituencies where a candidate does not receive an absolute majority in the first round. There are 2,978 candidates, an average of six for each available seat.

Indications were for a fiercely-fought campaign. The Communists in particular were out to show that they still are a major force in French politics despite their trouncing Sept. 28 when De Gaulle's new constitution won overwhelming approval.

More than a million voters deserted the Communist cause in the constitutional referendum. If the trend continues, the Reds could lose one third of the 142 seats they held in the old assembly. Their block of Assembly seats was the largest single group.

A total of 18 parties have entered candidates for the election, despite calls from prominent leaders for amalgamation of splinter groups.

Old Farmer's Almanac Sees Mild Winter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Old Abe Weatherwise has climbed out on his 167th limb.

He predicted a milder winter than usual, a wet spring and a hot Fourth of July.

The 112-page almanac, printed in the same format as the first one ever turned out, contains information gleaned from 400,000 separate calculations. There are the best moon dates for fishing and planting and the most favorable signs of the zodiac for getting permanent waves.

"For tooth extraction, G'm (Gemini), Vir (Virgo), Sgr (Sagittarius), Cap. (Capricorn), and Psc (Pisces seem best," the almanac said.

It recommended the signs of Taurus, Leo or Aquarius for permanents.

But to get back to Abe Weatherwise. In general, he was cheery in his forecasts. He said it's going to be a milder winter than usual.

That is a forecast Abe seldom makes, but he seems to have reason to figure there will be much less snowfall than usual this winter.

For this month, Abe foresees a temperature of 35-40 degrees—1 to 5 over normal — 2 inches of snow and 6 to 8 inches of rain.

But, he warned, that forecast holds true only for Boston. Anyone who wants to know how the weather will be anywhere else will have to figure it out for himself.

"It will work for other places by subtracting one day for each time zone west, by reading 5 degrees lower temperature for every 100 miles north of 42 latitude or 5 degrees higher for every 100 miles south of 42 latitude north and by considering every 1,000 feet of altitude is five degrees cooler," the almanac instructed.

Got it?

Well, December is going to be about 10 degrees colder than November — in Boston and points west — and a thaw will set in late in January, according to Mr. Weatherwise.

From then on, it will be uphill sledding, with the moon most favorable for barley planting in the Boston and Philadelphia areas around March 15 and between Feb. 15 and March 7 down Georgia way, the almanac instructed.

GOVERNMENT RESIGNS

HEAVY ABSENTEE VOTE

TOKYO (UPI) — U.S. military authorities Tuesday reported "heavy" absentee balloting by members of the armed forces and their families in the American elections.

Nylon Horseshoes, Kapok Substitute Didn't Pay Off

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — When research succeeds, you may get an atomic bomb, a moon rocket, a Salk vaccine.

But it doesn't always succeed, said Charles H. Rutledge of the Du Pont Co., which spends about 50 million dollars a week on research. In a speech before the Charlotte Engineers Club Monday Rutledge showed the other side of the ledger.

Rutledge's examples dealt with a scientist who liked to play the horses, and a pile of kapok.

Nylon is one-third the weight of steel. In horse racing, officials weigh the bridle, saddle and other equipment, but not the shoes. Ergo, the scientist deduced, a horse wearing nylon shoes would have an advantage on one length per furlong over a horse wearing the metal shoes.

The scientist produced the nylon horseshoes, but the idea flopped because blacksmiths didn't think much of the idea.

When World War II started, a frantic Washington official decided that there was going to be a shortage of kapok—a floating fiber used in life preservers. The government asked Du Pont to develop a substitute.

The company's researchers came up with Bubble-Fill, a cross between cellophane and rayon.

Then, said Rutledge, somebody discovered "mountains of kapok" stored in this country.

With Bubble-Fill more expensive than kapok, Du Pont was stuck with a stockpile of its development. Not all was lost, however; the Bubble-Fill wound up in toys that float in a bathtub.

RELATIVES AT CORONATION

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John's three brothers and at least 25 nieces, nephews and grandnieces and grand nephews viewed the coronation on a special stand.

CABLES CONGRATULATIONS

TRADITIONAL WORDS

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Nicola Cardinal Canali placed the triple crown of the papacy on the head of the Pope Tuesday with these traditional words in Latin: "Receive this tiara adorned with three crowns and know that thou art father of princes and kings, guide of the world, vicar of Jesus Christ our savior to whom is honor and glory without end."

Where to go for information about a second income

If you hope to have—as millions have—a second income from stocks or bonds, then you'll be interested in where to find help. You don't have to be rolling in money. An estimated two out of three shareowners have incomes under $7500 a year. Many are acquiring stock on the New York Stock Exchange for as little as $40 every three months through the convenient Monthly Investment Plan.

Select a Member Firm

A Registered Representative or a Partner there will share his knowledge and experience with you without charge. Member Firms spend millions of dollars, all told, in research to get information for their customers.

This is most important, for not every company makes a profit or pays a dividend or interest. Always invest on facts—never just on tips or rumors. Remember that stock and bond prices go down as well as up. And use money left over after living expenses are paid and emergencies provided for.

The nation's market place

Once you've decided to buy stock on the New York Stock Exchange, the rest can be extraordinarily swift and easy. The Member Firm promptly notifies its representative on the trading floor of the Exchange of your decision. The Exchange is an auction market place where orders to buy and sell come together. There a seller is found, and the transaction is often carried out in a few minutes.

Your representative on the trading floor will buy for you there at the lowest price he can. When he sells he will get the highest price he can.

One of the advantages of owning stock on the New York Stock Exchange is that whenever you want to convert your stock into cash you can usually find a buyer right away.

A wide range of securities

Not many people realize the exceptional financial stability of the Member Firms of the New York Stock Exchange. In every year since 1920 Members' solvency record has actually been better than that of the nation's banks. Their customers include small investors as well as large. And the wide range of securities with which they are familiar—from bonds to preferred and common stocks—enables them to help you plan investments to fit many different needs. From time to time, be sure to ask them to review your holdings with you.

More than 300 stocks on the New York Stock Exchange have paid a cash dividend every year from 25 to 109 years. We've put their records in a valuable booklet, "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS." Ask a nearby Member Firm for a free copy. Or send the coupon. We'll be glad to mail you one.

Select a Member Firm

A Registered Representative or a Partner there will share his knowledge and experience with you without charge. Member Firms spend millions of dollars, all told, in research to get information for their customers.

This is most important, for not every company makes a profit or pays a dividend or interest. Always invest on facts—never just on tips or rumors. Remember that stock and bond prices go down as well as up. And use money left over after living expenses are paid and emergencies provided for.

The nation's market place

Once you've decided to buy stock on the New York Stock Exchange, the rest can be extraordinarily swift and easy. The Member Firm promptly notifies its representative on the trading floor of the Exchange of your decision. The Exchange is an auction market place where orders to buy and sell come together. There a seller is found, and the transaction is often carried out in a few minutes.

Your representative on the trading floor will buy for you there at the lowest price he can. When he sells he will get the highest price he can.

One of the advantages of owning stock on the New York Stock Exchange is that whenever you want to convert your stock into cash you can usually find a buyer right away.

A wide range of securities

Not many people realize the exceptional financial stability of the Member Firms of the New York Stock Exchange. In every year since 1920 Members' solvency record has actually been better than that of the nation's banks. Their customers include small investors as well as large. And the wide range of securities with which they are familiar—from bonds to preferred and common stocks—enables them to help you plan investments to fit many different needs. From time to time, be sure to ask them to review your holdings with you.

More than 300 stocks on the New York Stock Exchange have paid a cash dividend every year from 25 to 109 years. We've put their records in a valuable booklet, "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS." Ask a nearby Member Firm for a free copy. Or send the coupon. We'll be glad to mail you one.

"The Honey Bee's Habits, Customs and Value to Mankind," was the subject of a talk by John Lindner, preceding the meeting. Mr. Lindner displayed a miniature hive with brood chambers and removable comb rack, explaining the work of the bees in connection with each part of the hive.

He said there are three kinds of bees within the city, the queen bee, being the mother of all the "citizens" of the city; the worker bees, which do all the work; and the drone bees, which live a "life of Riley."

Stressing the importance of pollination by the bees to food crops, the speaker explained that if all the insects were taken from the earth, in five years man would be fighting for his existence. Mr. Lindner also spoke of the two important products of the bees to our everyday living, honey and beeswax, honey being one of the highest energy producing foods and beeswax being used extensively in everyday products.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the social committee.

Oakland Firm, Teamsters Ink New Contract

A new three-year contract has been agreed upon by the Sanders Motor Freight Company, Inc., of Oakland, and Local 453, Teamsters Union, according to C. E. Stutzman, union business agent.

Stutzman said the contract provides for 11 cents an hour increase for the first year, 13 cents an hour the second year and 14 cents an hour the third year. The wage increase is retroactive to September 1, the date the pact starts.

Also provided is payment of $9.84 per month per man into the pension plan for the workers. The company maintains its own hospitalization program which is comparable to the one in effect with other trucking firms and the union, Stutzman said.

The vacation clause will provide for one week's vacation after one year's service, two weeks after three years, three weeks after 12 years and four weeks after 20 years.

Stutzman said that road drivers for the Sanders firm will receive nine cents per mile this year, nine and one-fourth cents per mile next year and nine and one-half cents per mile the third year.

The average wage for the Sanders drivers and warehousemen is $2 per hour for the first year of the contract, Stutzman said.

ANNOUNCER SLIPS

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — An Italian TV announcer found the habit of 20 years hard to break Tuesday as he reported on the coronation of Pope John XXIII. At one point he said the papal address Tuesday had been delivered by "his holiness, Pope Pius XII."

AUCTIONS SET

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The Huntington Tobacco Co. and the Tri-State Tobacco Warehouse Inc., will hold tobacco sales auctions starting Nov. 24, it was reported Tuesday. The announcement said 3½-hour auction will be held daily in an effort to sell most of the tobacco harvest before Christmas.

Baltimorean Low Bidder On Cumberland Mail Run

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department has awarded a contract for a new mail-trucking service between Baltimore and Cumberland to R. Dean Blackburn, veteran Baltimore star route operator.

Blackburn submitted the low bid among 20 for the route, and got the contract at $26,439 a year. The contract starts Nov. 15 and runs through June 30, 1961, with renewal option at the discretion of the postmaster general.

The Baltimore-Cumberland mail trucks, doing both pickup and delivery, are primarily designed to handle bulk mail such as parcel post, but will carry all classes of mail which can be most speedily delivered on this operation.

The bulk mail involved will be diverted from present rail routing via Washington. Officials said the new operation would substantially reduce costs and greatly speed deliveries.

The department also said it will expand the use of buses for deliveries of first class mail in the area.

The trucks will leave Baltimore daily at 12:30 a. m., except Sundays when departure will be at 3 a. m. and will serve Frederick, Hagerstown, Hancock and Cumberland.

The return from Cumberland will be at 6:30 p. m. each day, serving Hagerstown and Hancock. Officials explained Frederick is not on these runs because its post office would be closed at that time of day.

NAMED HEALTH QUEEN

RICHWOOD, W. Va. (UPI — Jane Lawson of nearby Craigsville, Nicholas County, has been selected as West Virginia's health queen and will represent the state at the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago Dec. 1-4. She is a junior at the Charleston General Hospital School of Nursing.

Crops valued at more than 800 million dollars are today being grown on land irrigated and developed by federal reclamation programs.

Long Again Urges People To Aid In Street Cleaning

The schedule for street sweeping for today is to be a reminder for residents of these sections, John J. Long, commissioner of streets and public property said yesterday.

Long has pointed to incomplete work which has resulted on streets when the sweeper was impeded by parked autos.

Today's schedule covers Williams Street and all short streets between Park and Maryland Avenue, Baltimore Avenue, Frederick and Bedford streets and then to North End.

Specifically, the streets are: Central, Baltimore, Columbia, Shawnee, Maryland, Piedmont, Sylvan, Shriver, Front, Fairview, Conrad and Regina avenues.

Bedford, Cecilia, Columbia, Dilley, Elm, Emily, Franklin, Frederick, Furnace, Goethe, Holland, Independence, Lincoln, Marion, Myrtle, Pulaski, Reynolds, Spring, Union, Valley, Walnut and Park streets.

Early this morning, the night shift will cover the business section between Market and Harrison streets. Others include Henderson Avenue, Polk Street, Decatur Street and Henderson Avenue.

Oakland Firm, Teamsters Ink New Contract

A new three-year contract has been agreed upon by the Sanders Motor Freight Company, Inc., of Oakland, and Local 453, Teamsters Union, according to C. E. Stutzman, union business agent.

Stutzman said the contract provides for 11 cents an hour increase for the first year, 13 cents an hour the second year and 14 cents an hour the third year. The wage increase is retroactive to September 1, the date the pact starts.

Also provided is payment of $9.84 per month per man into the pension plan for the workers. The company maintains its own hospitalization program which is comparable to the one in effect with other trucking firms and the union, Stutzman said.

The vacation clause will provide for one week's vacation after one year's service, two weeks after three years, three weeks after 12 years and four weeks after 20 years.

Stutzman said that road drivers for the Sanders firm will receive nine cents per mile this year, nine and one-fourth cents per mile next year and nine and one-half cents per mile the third year.

The average wage for the Sanders drivers and warehousemen is $2 per hour for the first year of the contract, Stutzman said.

ANNOUNCER SLIPS

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — An Italian TV announcer found the habit of 20 years hard to break Tuesday as he reported on the coronation of Pope John XXIII. At one point he said the papal address Tuesday had been delivered by "his holiness, Pope Pius XII."

AUCTIONS SET

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI—The Huntington Tobacco Co. and the Tri-State Tobacco Warehouse Inc., will hold tobacco sales auctions starting Nov. 24, it was reported Tuesday. The announcement said 3½-hour auction will be held daily in an effort to sell most of the tobacco harvest before Christmas.

Baltimorean Low Bidder On Cumberland Mail Run

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department has awarded a contract for a new mail-trucking service between Baltimore and Cumberland to R. Dean Blackburn, veteran Baltimore star route operator.

Blackburn submitted the low bid among 20 for the route, and got the contract at $26,439 a year. The contract starts Nov. 15 and runs through June 30, 1961, with renewal option at the discretion of the postmaster general.

The Baltimore-Cumberland mail trucks, doing both pickup and delivery, are primarily designed to handle bulk mail such as parcel post, but will carry all classes of mail which can be most speedily delivered on this operation.

The bulk mail involved will be diverted from present rail routing via Washington. Officials said the new operation would substantially reduce costs and greatly speed deliveries.

The department also said it will expand the use of buses for deliveries of first class mail in the area.

The trucks will leave Baltimore daily at 12:30 a. m., except Sundays when departure will be at 3 a. m. and will serve Frederick, Hagerstown, Hancock and Cumberland.

The return from Cumberland will be at 6:30 p. m. each day, serving Hagerstown and Hancock. Officials explained Frederick is not on these runs because its post office would be closed at that time of day.

NAMED HEALTH QUEEN

RICHWOOD, W. Va. (UPI — Jane Lawson of nearby Craigsville, Nicholas County, has been selected as West Virginia's health queen and will represent the state at the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago Dec. 1-4. She is a junior at the Charleston General Hospital School of Nursing.

Crops valued at more than 800 million dollars are today being grown on land irrigated and developed by federal reclamation programs.

County Issues 33 Permits For Buildings

10-Month Total Hits $4,074,934

Total estimated cost of construction authorized by 358 building permits issued by the Allegany County assessing department during the first 10 months of 1958 is $4,074,934 or $255,439 more than in the corresponding period of last year.

In the first 10 months of 1957 there were 347 permits and the builders estimated cost totaled $3,819,495.

October was the fourth successive month this year in which the total estimated cost of construction exceeded the same month of last year. There were 33 October permits issued and the total estimated cost was $159,500. A year ago, the October totals were 30 permits and $147,125.

In each year there has been one single permit which far overshadowed all others. In 1957 it was a January permit for a proposed $2,000,000 shopping center off of Winchester Road but this project never has been started. This year the big project was the $2,308,254 waste treatment plant at Westernport on which work was begun in May.

The 33 permits issued last month authorized construction in 11 election districts of the county. The co-leaders are Election District 7 in the Cresaptown-Rawlings area and District 16 at North Branch, each with six permits. District 29 at LaVale, the usual leader, was third with five permits. Other districts with more than one October building permit included District 5, North End suburban, four permits; District 1, Little Orleans, and District 20, Corriganville-Ellerslie, three each, and District 3, Flintstone, two.

The construction authorized by the October building permits included 17 for new dwellings; three for additions to dwellings, two dwellings with garages, two garages, one garage and store, one garage with single room above, one remodeling of a dwelling, one storage room, one dwelling and carport, one poultry house, one shed and storage, one workshop and one garage and storage.

St. Luke's Church Obtains Bids For Sanctuary

The George F. Hazelwood Company of this city yesterday submitted the low bid for the construction of a new edifice for St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Rev. William R. Snyder, pastor, reported last night.

Negotiations between church leaders and the company will continue in an effort to get the cost in line with the church budget. Rev. Mr. Snyder said that a congregational meeting will be held, probably before the middle of November, to act on acceptance of the revised bid.

Three other bids, two of them from local contractors, also were received yesterday. The only bidder on the electrical contract was the Sterling Electric Company.

Plans and specifications for the new church, to be built in the 1600 block Frederick Street near the city limits, were prepared by T. Norman Mansell, Philadelphia, Pa., architect.

Mr. Catherman, who resides in Frostburg, has been employed by the telephone firm for 11 years. He graduated from Beall in 1948 and was commercial representative at the local office for two and one-half years.

Mr. Menges was an installer-repairman for five years prior to his promotion. He started with the C&P film in December 1948 as a cable splicer's helper and later was a cable splicer.

A 1937 graduate of Hyndman High School, Mr. Menges and his wife, the former Georgia Boyd, and their two daughters, Judith, 16, and Starr, 7, reside at 606 Avondale Avenue.

Deremer, Sirockman To Be Transferred

The promotions of William A. Deremer and John S. Sirockman Jr., to new assignments in Charlotte, N. C. and Canada were announced yesterday by W. E. Crooks, manager of the Amcelle Plant of Celanese Corporation of America.

Over the years, he has held supervisory positions in virtually all of the Textile departments. From 1949 to 1955, he was a supervisor in the Production Planning Department of Textile, and in 1955 when Production Planning became an independent section, he was named supervisor.

He attended local public schools and has taken various supplementary night school and correspondence courses.

His outside activities include membership in various Masonic bodies, Civil Defense organizations, lay delegate and vice-president of the Men's Organization of the First Methodist Church, and past president of the East Side Parent-Teacher Association. He and his family reside at 629 Shade's Lane.

Mr. Sirockman, assistant superintendent of Extrusion, will become superintendent of extrusion and textile operations at the Edmonton, Alberta, plant of Canadian Chemical Company, Ltd., a Celanese affiliate. He will assume his new duties on December 1, 1958.

A graduate of West Virginia University, where he majored in chemical engineering, Mr. Sirockman joined the Amcelle Quality Control staff in May 1955 and held the position of Senior Quality Control Engineer from July 1956 until his recent promotion to assistant superintendent of Extrusion. Prior to his Amcelle experience, he had worked for the Research and Development Division of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company.

He is a veteran of World War II, having served with the rank of first lieutenant in the Infantry. He is a member of the American Society for Quality Control and was instructor in Industrial Science for the Celanese Pre-Supervisory Training Course offered under the Allegany County Education Program.

He is married, the father of two sons and resides at Carrick Place, LaVale.

County Issues 33 Permits For Buildings

10-Month Total Hits $4,074,934

Total estimated cost of construction authorized by 358 building permits issued by the Allegany County assessing department during the first 10 months of 1958 is $4,074,934 or $255,439 more than in the corresponding period of last year.

In the first 10 months of 1957 there were 347 permits and the builders estimated cost totaled $3,819,495.

October was the fourth successive month this year in which the total estimated cost of construction exceeded the same month of last year. There were 33 October permits issued and the total estimated cost was $159,500. A year ago, the October totals were 30 permits and $147,125.

In each year there has been one single permit which far overshadowed all others. In 1957 it was a January permit for a proposed $2,000,000 shopping center off of Winchester Road but this project never has been started. This year the big project was the $2,308,254 waste treatment plant at Westernport on which work was begun in May.

The 33 permits issued last month authorized construction in 11 election districts of the county. The co-leaders are Election District 7 in the Cresaptown-Rawlings area and District 16 at North Branch, each with six permits. District 29 at LaVale, the usual leader, was third with five permits. Other districts with more than one October building permit included District 5, North End suburban, four permits; District 1, Little Orleans, and District 20, Corriganville-Ellerslie, three each, and District 3, Flintstone, two.

The construction authorized by the October building permits included 17 for new dwellings; three for additions to dwellings, two dwellings with garages, two garages, one garage and store, one garage with single room above, one remodeling of a dwelling, one storage room, one dwelling and carport, one poultry house, one shed and storage, one workshop and one garage and storage.

St. Luke's Church Obtains Bids For Sanctuary

The George F. Hazelwood Company of this city yesterday submitted the low bid for the construction of a new edifice for St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Rev. William R. Snyder, pastor, reported last night.

Negotiations between church leaders and the company will continue in an effort to get the cost in line with the church budget. Rev. Mr. Snyder said that a congregational meeting will be held, probably before the middle of November, to act on acceptance of the revised bid.

Three other bids, two of them from local contractors, also were received yesterday. The only bidder on the electrical contract was the Sterling Electric Company.

Plans and specifications for the new church, to be built in the 1600 block Frederick Street near the city limits, were prepared by T. Norman Mansell, Philadelphia, Pa., architect.

Telephone Firm Lists Changes In Personnel

Robert G. Garner, manager of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company here, has announced two changes in the personnel of the local business office.

James L. Catherman, commercial sales representative, has been named commercial representative for the business office, and Devon R. Menges has been named to Mr. Catherman's position.

Mr. Catherman, who resides in Frostburg, has been employed by the telephone firm for 11 years. He graduated from Beall in 1948 and was commercial representative at the local office for two and one-half years.

Mr. Menges was an installer-repairman for five years prior to his promotion. He started with the C&P film in December 1948 as a cable splicer's helper and later was a cable splicer.

A 1937 graduate of Hyndman High School, Mr. Menges and his wife, the former Georgia Boyd, and their two daughters, Judith, 16, and Starr, 7, reside at 606 Avondale Avenue.

Mr. Menges will attend conferences for several weeks in Baltimore before assuming his new duties.

Two Amcelle Employes Get Assignments

Deremer, Sirockman To Be Transferred

The promotions of William A. Deremer and John S. Sirockman Jr., to new assignments in Charlotte, N. C. and Canada were announced yesterday by W. E. Crooks, manager of the Amcelle Plant of Celanese Corporation of America.

Mr. Deremer, production planning superintendent at Amcelle, will transfer to the Charlotte office of Celanese, where he will assume the position of supervisor of Product Planners in the Textile Division Production Planning Department. He will report to his new assignment on January 5, 1959.

Mr. Deremer was employed in the Textile Manufacturing Section in 1928 and was promoted to the Amcelle staff in 1934. Over the years, he has held supervisory positions in virtually all of the Textile departments. From 1949 to 1955, he was a supervisor in the Production Planning Department of Textile, and in 1955 when Production Planning became an independent section, he was named supervisor.

He attended local public schools and has taken various supplementary night school and correspondence courses.

His outside activities include membership in various Masonic bodies, Civil Defense organizations, lay delegate and vice-president of the Men's Organization of the First Methodist Church, and past president of the East Side Parent-Teacher Association. He and his family reside at 629 Shade's Lane.

Mr. Sirockman, assistant superintendent of Extrusion, will become superintendent of extrusion and textile operations at the Edmonton, Alberta, plant of Canadian Chemical Company, Ltd., a Celanese affiliate. He will assume his new duties on December 1, 1958.

A graduate of West Virginia University, where he majored in chemical engineering, Mr. Sirockman joined the Amcelle Quality Control staff in May 1955 and held the position of Senior Quality Control Engineer from July 1956 until his recent promotion to assistant superintendent of Extrusion. Prior to his Amcelle experience, he had worked for the Research and Development Division of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company.

He is a veteran of World War II, having served with the rank of first lieutenant in the Infantry. He is a member of the American Society for Quality Control and was instructor in Industrial Science for the Celanese Pre-Supervisory Training Course offered under the Allegany County Education Program.

He is married, the father of two sons and resides at Carrick Place, LaVale.

Local Florists Ask For Parking Relief

Three local florists have asked the Police Department to remove red lines and install yellow lines in front of their business establishments.

Spokesman for the group before the Mayor and Council was Edward Habeeb, North Mechanic Street. He stressed the perishable qualities of flowers when carried long distances in inclement weather, effect on business by lack of customer parking space and additional cost of deliveries as the result of late orders which would not occur if a customer could stop at the florists' place of business.

Commissioner Philmore Fleming had scheduled a meeting with the group and it is expected some solution will be worked out.

The postal authorities said this is the first time this type of crime has been committed in Cumberland for a number of years.

The case is being investigated by the Postal Inspection Service.

Russia's Big Switch On Nobel Prizes

The country of the mind is all-embracing. A great work of literature, a creative breakthrough in science, is not a narrow national achievement but the product and the property of mankind.

That is what free men believe. And it is the basis on which Nobel Prizes are awarded. Men are judged on the product of their minds alone, for their contributions to literature or physics or peace or chemistry or medicine.

But the Kremlin of the commissars is a fortress of Russian nationalism and Russian imperialism. Russia's rulers claim a monopoly on peace aims, though not one of them has ever received a Nobel Peace Prize. So Moscow felt a compulsion to smear the whole institution of Nobel awards as a conscious and malignant agent of the capitalist conspiracy against peace.

This, too, was in character. Russia has also smeared the International Red Cross. The Red Cross is all right, maybe, when it helps Communists, but it becomes a sinister tool of capitalist warmongers when it helps their victims.

So when Boris Pasternak got this year's Nobel Prize for literature, a frenzy of inspired denunciations broke forth. He has been denounced as a traitor, stripped of his academic posts, and forced to reject the awards to escape a worse fate.

But the three Russian physicists who received this year's Nobel Prize for physics are more fortunate. The physics announcement, ironically, came just as the Soviet press was pulling out all the stops in denunciation of Nobel Prizes. But it is now officially explained that the committee is a decadent lackey of capitalism when it gives literary awards but a wise and upright judge when it gives physics awards. In 1958, anyway.

The Smear On Hoover

The phenomenon of the current effort to denounce J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI has many interesting facades. First appears an entire issue of "The Nation" with an article by Fred J. Cook. This article is mostly a journalistic rehash of material in "The Federal Bureau of Investigation" by Max Lowenthal, published in 1950 and duly knocked off its pins by "The FBI Story," by Don Whitehead, and "Masters of Deceit" by J. Edgar Hoover. Cook's additions to Lowenthal add little.

Cook's problem is made evident in his last chapter, "The Final Judgment." He says:

". . . One conclusion, however, should be obvious to anyone who has gone to the trouble of trying to research the day-to-day newspaper files; the FBI, like any other human agency, is not perfect; it makes mistakes, sometimes serious ones. And because it does, it should not be placed, any more than any other human agency should be placed, upon such a pinnacle that its actions, its pronouncements, may not be questioned without the critic running the risk of being considered an enemy of the republic."

With this, J. Edgar Hoover would agree. But to criticize just to criticize is illogical and can be harmful. If the FBI exceeds its authority, violates the law, impairs civil rights, denies constitutional protection of the individual, let us go after it. If Hoover is guilty of such conduct, let us impeach him. But where is the evidence?

I have carefully read Lowenthal and I have carefully read Cook and I do not discover such evidence. These gentlemen might say that they lack the facilities, the power of subpoena, the authority to get at the facts. That is true. They do lack such facilities. Nevertheless, if their complaints are justified, they ought to be able to make a better case than they have made.

Cook quotes Westbrook Pegler to the effect that the FBI has personnel scandals just as does the New York Police Department, but the difference is that, when a cop gets into trouble, he makes a page-one headline; when an FBI agent comes a cropper, he is quietly shelved or bounced by the boss and nothing is ever heard about it.

I have not the slightest doubt but that this has occurred. It only establishes the competence of the FBI administration. Of course, there are failures in FBI personnel. And, of course, they are disciplined and some are pushed out of the organization.

It seems to bother Cook that the FBI has enjoyed favorable publicity in the newspapers and on radio. So have Scotland Yard, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the Texas Rangers. Some organizations are more news-worthy than others; some are more colorful, more exciting. Cook is a reporter and he ought to know that. Somehow when a newspaper announces that the FBI is called into a case, the public becomes more interested.

Another complaint of Cook's is:

"Over the years, Hoover has talked tough about getting the big-shot racketeers, and the public and the press, accepting these pronouncements, have looked upon the FBI as the Nemesis of big-time crime; yet actually, startlingly, the record shows that the real czars of the underworld, accommodating gentlemen when it comes to bankrolling political machines, rarely have been touched . . ."

The FBI is a subordinate organization of limited powers. It is a division in the Department of Justice and takes its instructions from the Attorney General. When it gathers the material for an indictment, it presents the material to the Attorney General (or an assistant) who makes the decision whether the case is to be brought before the Grand Jury or not.

Some specific matters, such as kidnapping, have been delegated to the FBI by Congress. What Cook refers to in no manner comes under such a heading. If Hoover were to intervene in the Apalachin situation, it would be a violation of states rights and of civil rights—and these must hold for a hoodlum as much as they do for Fred J. Cook.

Now, I hear that a daily newspaper has a team of reporters scouring the world to discover weaknesses or perhaps wickedness in J. Edgar Hoover's character. I heard from Paris that persons were questioned about J. Edgar Hoover. I have had no such reports from Moscow. Perhaps they will discover a goldfish in a goldfish bowl.

'And Now—Our Own Prize For Literary Freedom'

Boris Pasternak And The Poor Old Trollops

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

Here is a peaceable, industrious and noble-minded man, who happens to be one of modern Russia's two true poets. (The other, who may also suffer from Pasternak's dangerous award, is Anna Akhmatova.) Being a true poet, Pasternak has never prostituted his pure talent in the State's service, but in every other way he has been a good, obedient citizen.

In "Dr. Shivago," he has tried to sum up his own experience in the long, terrible, tremendous years of Russia's Communist transformation. The novel is no tract. It is a rich human document, full of life and truth and compassion. Sir Isaiah Berlin, the only competent judge known to this reporter who has read the book in Russian, further describes "Dr. Shivago" as a great and authentic work of genius.

For this novel, Pasternak is awarded the first Nobel Prize ever given to a Soviet author. And the immediate result is a storm of menace and abuse that really almost equals the storm that was caused in Moscow by the announcement of the Truman Doctrine.

Why? Why? Why?, one is almost driven to cry out; for surely all this public indignation is insanely disproportionate, even if Pasternak's talent has never put on the shoddy corset of "socialist realism."

But there is no need for bewilderment, if you look first at those who lead the chorus against Pasternak, and if you then look at how these men must feel at the moment. The leaders of the chorus, it must be understood, have not been the official leaders of the Soviet state, or their grim official thought-controllers. The chorus leaders have been the other Soviet writers. Pasternak's fellow craftsmen of letters are the ones who have fallen into a state of eye-rolling, mouth-frothing frenzy, because the outside world has greatly honored one of their numbers.

By a lucky accident, the way these men must now be feeling was brilliantly foreshadowed by a series of interviews with Soviet writers published, under the title "Conversations in Moscow" in the English magazine, "Encounter." The two key interviews were with the official grand old man of Soviet letters, Ilya Ehrenburg, and the Secretary of the Soviet Writers' Union, Alexei Surkov. Both men talked at length about Pasternak, and in a way that was tragically, ironically revealing.

Ehrenburg, who might have been a good or even great writer if he had not preferred the rewards of prostitution, made his little, conventional bow to art and truth. Pasternak, he said, was a "great poet" and a writer of "great prose, always full of poetic images." But he added venomously, "Boris Pasternak is the most egocentric person I know."

From the page of the magazine the image leaps out — the old man, in the comfortable Moscow flat that is one of the prostitution's chief rewards, knowing what he might have been if he had not become a prostitute, hating himself for his own surrender, above all hating the man who had never surrendered. "Egocentric!" What a superb adjective for an aging trollop who wants to transfer the moral blame to the conspicuous non-trollop!

In the Surkov interview, too, the human image positively leaps from the page. But here it is a different image, for Surkov is a writer of no talent whatever, a dreary, loud-mouthed party drudge, who earns his handsome pay and extensive perquisites by dragooning real writers into the party line. He must, one suspects, hate them all, even supple, old Ehrenburg himself. Above all, Surkov hates Pasternak, who has the greatest talent and has not been dragooned; and he already fears the dreadful blow that is to come.

"They say he may even be nominated for the Nobel Prize!" Surkov burst out. "They say he may even get it!"

"The idea of a Nobel Prize for Pasternak seemed to annoy him deeply," the interviewer, Gerd Ruge, continued drily. "My ears were no more than half-a-yard from his mouth. But Surkov spoke as though he were addressing a plenary session of his (Writers') Union." Nor can one wonder at Surkov's furious annoyance. For the human spirit is strangely, obstinately difficult to dragoon; and on top of every other reason that Surkov has for loathing Pasternak, there is the grim, practical reason that Pasternak is the shining, secret hero of nine-tenths of the younger men whom Surkov is charged with keeping in order.

To the literary trollops, in truth, Pasternak's prize must indeed be a bitter personal humiliation. The row over Pasternak proves how right Plato was, when he outlawed all pets as dangerous subversives in his design for a totalitarian state.

Filipino Nightmares And Food Poisoning

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Do nightmares cause death? Probably not but I doubt if certain Filipinos could be convinced about this. They have a disease known as bangungut, which is a Tagolog word for nightmares.

The victim usually awakens from a nightmare frothing at the mouth and gasping for breath. If he remains conscious he complains of headache and a sense of pressure on the head and chest. The sufferer either dies or gets well by morning.

Dr. J. B. Nolasco of Manila, seriously questioned the causative role of nightmares in this condition. After studying the problem in the laboratory he found that eating certain preserved fish and fish products found in the Filipino diet led to death in animals. Autopsy findings were so similar to those in bangungut, he suspected that food poisoning might be responsible for the disease in humans.

His research paid off, because the next six nightmare cases that reached the hospital offered an opportunity to test his theory. All had consumed preserved fish or foods considered bangungutgenic. These persons became acutely ill shortly after falling asleep and died immediately or recovered completely within several minutes or hours.

Some individuals develop nightmares after eating a heavy meal. If the food is tainted the outcome is not favorable but this is no reason for blaming nightmares for taking the person to the River Styx.

On the other hand, it is conceivable that men and women with heart disease might get into trouble during a terrifying dream or nightmare. The old ticker reacts to stress situations in a dream world in much the same way as it does when awake. The lips of those who succumb are sealed forever and, therefore, we will never know.

HEART MURMUR

Mrs. T. writes: My 15 year old daughter complained of shortness of breath. I took her to a doctor and he said she has a heart murmur. Is this a curable condition?

REPLY

Not if the murmur stems from a scarred valve. Ask your physician for more details about the girl's condition, and if there is any doubt in his mind concerning its management, request a consultation. At 15 she has many years ahead of her and the entire problem should be understood thoroughly.

HOT TUB RELAXES

R. W. writes: Will soaking in a hot tub for an hour every night help hemorrhoids?

REPLY

It may have a soothing and cleansing effect but will not cause the hemorrhoids to shrink or disappear. The best remedy is surgical removal or, in some ment. ashrdlun n nu nu nu nn instances, the injection treatment. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on hemorrhoids.

SUBCUTANEOUS FAT

B. D. writes: What causes fat under the skin to disappear as you get older?

REPLY

Older persons tend to lose weight because of changes in appetite, digestion, and chewing difficulties. In addition, the skin loses its elasticity. In this respect, not all the flabbiness is due to weight loss.

SORE TOES

G. A. W. writes: What causes pain in the tips of the toes on walking, regardless of the size of the shoes?

REPLY

COUGH ON EXERTION

Mrs. M. W. writes: Why does my husband start coughing when he exerts himself? He has chronic bronchitis.

REPLY

This is a common manifestation in chronic bronchitis because the added exertion stretches the inflamed bronchi. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on bronchitis.

TOMORROW: Separation of retina from eyeball.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

In a new survey of advertising business called "Madison Avenue, U. S. A.," Martin Mayer insists the advertising fraternity is much maligned. Far from talking like high school sophomores, says Mayer (example: "Run that one up the flagpole, Manny, and let's see if someone salutes"), the actual ad executive is blunt, direct and business-like. When a prospective client once asked an agency president what he'd do if a carefully detailed campaign was rejected, the president replied smoothly, "We'll present our second-best idea."

Stung by the general assumption that every poor soul in the advertising business has an ulcer, a Tide magazine panel recently queried 1,400 top ad executives on the state of their health. Only four per cent admitted they suffered from ulcers. Eighty-eight per cent declared they were in perfect shape, ready to wangle an account away from a rival at the drop of a thermometer.

People In All Sections Of Nation Helping Clinton Rebuild Its School

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—In only about one-half the area of the world today, can free elections be held. We are lucky. And, despite some graft here and there, despite the influence of big campaign contributions, and last-minute accusations, our elections usually represent a pretty accurate, healthy cross-section of American opinion.

While Americans were voting or making up their minds how to vote, another healthy phenomenon was taking place in America which you don't find in some other parts of the world—an outpouring of money and sympathy from all sorts of people for the children who were bombed out of their school at Clinton, Tenn., and the synagogue which was dynamited in Atlanta, Ga.

Down in Atlanta a public school had suffered a fire some years ago, and the synagogue opened its doors for the children to study there. So, after the synagogue was dynamited, the children of this school dipped into their savings banks and gave $600 to the synagogue.

Fortunately the synagogue was insured. But that $600 from the children of the Atlanta public school actually meant more in friendship than an insurance policy. So did the vigorous reaction of all the people of Atlanta, and meanwhile, out in Yreka, Calif., Joey Nichols, president of the Yreka High School student body, pledged a "coke for freedom of education" from 625 students and citizens of Yreka to help rebuild the Clinton School house in Tennessee. Yreka, in northern California, is a long way from the foothills of Eastern Tennessee, but the kids of Yreka High wanted to contribute the cost of a drink each, which is about the same price as a coke, to help rebuild the Clinton School.

Brotherhood In Action

All sorts of heart-warming messages have come to the Clinton School, from all sorts of people and from all over the U. S. A. Here are just a few of them: An old dishwasher, Reno, Nev.—"Have read Pearson's column. We in this old U. S. A. will take care of our own when they deserve it." Mrs. G. A. Romano, San Diego—"Please accept this check from my family of five. My children wish we could all do more." Robert and Joanne Oberhards, Arlington, Va.—"In a world filled with hate, we the school children of today must demonstrate that there is still hope of salvaging the brotherhood of men. We are raising our voices in defiance of the hate-mongers and bombers by contributing our coke money to help rebuild your school." C. N. Fox, Atlanta, Ga.—"Sorry I cannot give more to help rebuild your edifice of learning that ignorance destroyed." Mrs. Florence Johnson, New York—"My little girl, seven years old, prays that Clinton will have another fine school and hopes her contribution will help make it possible." Mrs. Donald W. Sharp, Fairfax, Va.—"This is not much but perhaps it will help rebuild your school. I am so sorry this fanatical thing happened to a community that is trying to live right and do right, and I hope it won't discourage your boys and girls. Most of the rest of the world sees Clinton, Tennessee, as a place where people are reasonable and sensible and good, and it is too bad that a few fanatical outsiders (surely) were able to commit such an enormous crime."

Real Sacrifice

One of the earliest offers of help came from Aubrey Galyon, secretary of the Building Trades Council of Knoxville, just 20 miles from Clinton, and from David Parks, Southeastern representative of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers to contribute labor to rebuild the school. This will be not only a sizable gift, but means a real sacrifice because labor has been partly unemployed in east Tennessee and this is how the American people react when other people suffer from fanatics and hate-mongers.

Note—Contributions to help rebuild the Clinton School House can be sent direct to the Clinton School House, Clinton, Tenn.

Merry-Go-Round

Henry Cabot Lodge, our Ambassador to the United Nations, wants a new, more glamorous job with the elections over. He has one eye on the post of Ambassador to France, though his secret ambition is to succeed John Foster Dulles as Secretary of State . . . Dictator Khrushchev has become so missile-minded he has assigned his own son to work in a missile laboratory . . . Speaker Sam Rayburn has assured worried Southerners he won't let the Democratic liberals, with a big gain in the new Congress, take over the House. He will juggle committee appointments, he says, to keep control in the hands of the same conservative Southerners who have been running the House for the past decade. . . . The British are urging the United States to take a more realistic attitude toward Communist China now the elections are over. Foreign Secretary Lloyd passed on this advice to Secretary Dulles when he stopped off in London en route to Italy and Formosa . . . President Eisenhower had to order Secretary of the Navy Gates to promote Admiral Rickover, father of the atomic submarine. At first, Gates sided with the admirals who don't like Rickover's unorthodox behavior and background (he's the son of a Polish pants presser in Chicago). At one point Secretary Gates complained to friends that Rickover had caused him so much mental anguish that he once absentmindedly ordered Rickover for lunch . . . Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico is quietly investigating reports that Adm. Lewis Strauss sought his appointment as Secretary of Commerce in order to promote the peaceful development of atomic power by the private utility companies. Anderson will cross-examine Strauss sharply when he comes up for Senate confirmation . . . Army scientists came up with a nickname for the giant metal ball that the Army tried to shoot into orbit. They wanted to call it "Hiball." However, they were overruled and it was finally named "Beacon."

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

ATLANTA, Georgia — It was evening. I was walking down Peachtree Street in the blue shadows. Automobiles waited at the red light and an elegant old lady with a cane took her unhurried time crossing. A cab pulled to the curb. On his trunk rack was the sign: "See Rock City."

The neons came to life. They winked seductively for restaurants and hotels and department stores and for God. The city is big and sedate. It is a mannerly community, even when it doesn't like you.

It doesn't like me. That's understandable. I'm an unsympathetic reporter from another part of the United States. I am here to write a series of articles on the bombing of The Temple. Lack of sympathy is met by lack of sympathy. The blue eyes that stare at me are cold.

I got my story. It is, I think, a good one. It is not an hysterical document. It is an assortment of small facts which, collectively, make sense. The facts are nasty, but they are small. The haters who bomb churches, for example, do not number more than 100 men in all the South. These are the noisy little lunatics.

The Temple wall is being repaired. Two carpenters slide putty between window panes and frames. Rabbi Rothschild sits in his study and shakes his head. "Why didn't they paint the frames before they put them in? Now I'll never get the windows open."

The damage was estimated at $200,000. It was an hysterical estimate. The side porch, the office, the upstairs ladies' lounge, the auditorium, should cost more than $30,000 to repair. The big windows with the blue glass will cost something extra.

Five men are in jail. I talked to them. One is a cripple who drags his foot; two seem to me to be effeminate; a fourth got his bigotry from his lovely mother; the fifth doesn't like anybody. The best one can hope is that the police have the right men.

The Atlanta Police Department did nothing to help me. I've covered stories in many parts of the world, but I have never encountered such courteous rejection. Captain Little, for example, has conducted the investigation since the bombing. I phoned him three times. Not only could I not see him; I didn't even get a call-back.

His boss, Superintendent of Detectives Glyn Cowan, made an appointment with me at police headquarters. He didn't keep it. His secretary said that Cowan was sorry; he had just left on an important case. I studied the newspapers that afternoon and the following morning. I saw no important case mentioned.

I stopped in to see Chief Jenkins. He had just left for Miami. I stopped in to see Sheriff Grimes. He said ain't nobody gonna see those boys in jail. I pointed out that the police had admitted Southern newspapermen to see them. The sheriff phoned to check. Yes, he said, there were some newspapermen in to see the five prisoners, but the police had requested him to keep me out.

He didn't know why. They gave no reason. "I gotta live with those people," he said. "I wanna hep you too, but you can't see those boys." I saw the defense attorney, Essley Burdine. He said he would sue out a writ in court for me if the sheriff turned me down. I told this to Mr. Grimes. He said all right, that I could see those five boys.

I saw them. They are in separate cell blocks. On the wall on each floor was a new notice from the sheriff, announcing that, of the 480 prisoners in the jail, these five are to have no visitors except their attorneys and families.

Last, I wanted to talk to Mrs. Abe Shurgin, executive secretary of The Temple. When I arrived for the appointment, she said that she was sorry, but that I could not quote her. I asked why. She said that she had orders from The Temple president, William Schwartz Jr. I said that I could not agree to such restrictions, nor could I believe that anyone would issue such an order.

She got Mr. Schwartz on the phone. I spoke to him. He said that not only could I not quote Mrs. Shurgin, but further I couldn't even quote the conversation I was having wtih him. "If you do not agree to this," he said, "there is nothing we have to say to you."

Later I sat with the rabbi. He is a big man, intellectually. He said he was sorry for what happened. He also said he hoped that the five men are not put to death for the bombing.

The difference is in upbringing.

Nevertheless, if their complaints are justified, they ought to be able to make a better case than they have made.

Cook quotes Westbrook Pegler to the effect that the FBI has personnel scandals just as does the New York Police Department, but the difference is that, when a cop gets into trouble, he makes a page-one headline; when an FBI agent comes a cropper, he is quietly shelved or bounced by the boss and nothing is ever heard about it.

I have not the slightest doubt but that this has occurred. It only establishes the competence of the FBI administration. Of course, there are failures in FBI personnel. And, of course, they are disciplined and some are pushed out of the organization.

It seems to bother Cook that the FBI has enjoyed favorable publicity in the newspapers and on radio. So have Scotland Yard, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the Texas Rangers. Some organizations are more news-worthy than others; some are more colorful, more exciting. Cook is a reporter and he ought to know that. Somehow when a newspaper announces that the FBI is called into a case, the public becomes more interested.

Another complaint of Cook's is:

"Over the years, Hoover has talked tough about getting the big-shot racketeers, and the public and the press, accepting these pronouncements, have looked upon the FBI as the Nemesis of big-time crime; yet actually, startlingly, the record shows that the real czars of the underworld, accommodating gentlemen when it comes to bankrolling political machines, rarely have been touched . . ."

The FBI is a subordinate organization of limited powers. It is a division in the Department of Justice and takes its instructions from the Attorney General. When it gathers the material for an indictment, it presents the material to the Attorney General (or an assistant) who makes the decision whether the case is to be brought before the Grand Jury or not.

Some specific matters, such as kidnapping, have been delegated to the FBI by Congress. What Cook refers to in no manner comes under such a heading. If Hoover were to intervene in the Apalachin situation, it would be a violation of states rights and of civil rights—and these must hold for a hoodlum as much as they do for Fred J. Cook.

Now, I hear that a daily newspaper has a team of reporters scouring the world to discover weaknesses or perhaps wickedness in J. Edgar Hoover's character. I heard from Paris that persons were questioned about J. Edgar Hoover. I have had no such reports from Moscow. Perhaps they will discover a goldfish in a goldfish bowl.

Boris Pasternak And The Poor Old Trollops

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

Here is a peaceable, industrious and noble-minded man, who happens to be one of modern Russia's two true poets. (The other, who may also suffer from Pasternak's dangerous award, is Anna Akhmatova.) Being a true poet, Pasternak has never prostituted his pure talent in the State's service, but in every other way he has been a good, obedient citizen.

In "Dr. Shivago," he has tried to sum up his own experience in the long, terrible, tremendous years of Russia's Communist transformation. The novel is no tract. It is a rich human document, full of life and truth and compassion. Sir Isaiah Berlin, the only competent judge known to this reporter who has read the book in Russian, further describes "Dr. Shivago" as a great and authentic work of genius.

For this novel, Pasternak is awarded the first Nobel Prize ever given to a Soviet author. And the immediate result is a storm of menace and abuse that really almost equals the storm that was caused in Moscow by the announcement of the Truman Doctrine.

Why? Why? Why?, one is almost driven to cry out; for surely all this public indignation is insanely disproportionate, even if Pasternak's talent has never put on the shoddy corset of "socialist realism."

But there is no need for bewilderment, if you look first at those who lead the chorus against Pasternak, and if you then look at how these men must feel at the moment. The leaders of the chorus, it must be understood, have not been the official leaders of the Soviet state, or their grim official thought-controllers. The chorus leaders have been the other Soviet writers. Pasternak's fellow craftsmen of letters are the ones who have fallen into a state of eye-rolling, mouth-frothing frenzy, because the outside world has greatly honored one of their numbers.

By a lucky accident, the way these men must now be feeling was brilliantly foreshadowed by a series of interviews with Soviet writers published, under the title "Conversations in Moscow" in the English magazine, "Encounter." The two key interviews were with the official grand old man of Soviet letters, Ilya Ehrenburg, and the Secretary of the Soviet Writers' Union, Alexei Surkov. Both men talked at length about Pasternak, and in a way that was tragically, ironically revealing.

Ehrenburg, who might have been a good or even great writer if he had not preferred the rewards of prostitution, made his little, conventional bow to art and truth. Pasternak, he said, was a "great poet" and a writer of "great prose, always full of poetic images." But he added venomously, "Boris Pasternak is the most egocentric person I know."

From the page of the magazine the image leaps out — the old man, in the comfortable Moscow flat that is one of the prostitution's chief rewards, knowing what he might have been if he had not become a prostitute, hating himself for his own surrender, above all hating the man who had never surrendered. "Egocentric!" What a superb adjective for an aging trollop who wants to transfer the moral blame to the conspicuous non-trollop!

In the Surkov interview, too, the human image positively leaps from the page. But here it is a different image, for Surkov is a writer of no talent whatever, a dreary, loud-mouthed party drudge, who earns his handsome pay and extensive perquisites by dragooning real writers into the party line. He must, one suspects, hate them all, even supple, old Ehrenburg himself. Above all, Surkov hates Pasternak, who has the greatest talent and has not been dragooned; and he already fears the dreadful blow that is to come.

"They say he may even be nominated for the Nobel Prize!" Surkov burst out. "They say he may even get it!"

"The idea of a Nobel Prize for Pasternak seemed to annoy him deeply," the interviewer, Gerd Ruge, continued drily. "My ears were no more than half-a-yard from his mouth. But Surkov spoke as though he were addressing a plenary session of his (Writers') Union." Nor can one wonder at Surkov's furious annoyance. For the human spirit is strangely, obstinately difficult to dragoon; and on top of every other reason that Surkov has for loathing Pasternak, there is the grim, practical reason that Pasternak is the shining, secret hero of nine-tenths of the younger men whom Surkov is charged with keeping in order.

To the literary trollops, in truth, Pasternak's prize must indeed be a bitter personal humiliation. The row over Pasternak proves how right Plato was, when he outlawed all pets as dangerous subversives in his design for a totalitarian state.

Filipino Nightmares And Food Poisoning

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Do nightmares cause death? Probably not but I doubt if certain Filipinos could be convinced about this. They have a disease known as bangungut, which is a Tagolog word for nightmares.

The victim usually awakens from a nightmare frothing at the mouth and gasping for breath. If he remains conscious he complains of headache and a sense of pressure on the head and chest. The sufferer either dies or gets well by morning.

Dr. J. B. Nolasco of Manila, seriously questioned the causative role of nightmares in this condition. After studying the problem in the laboratory he found that eating certain preserved fish and fish products found in the Filipino diet led to death in animals. Autopsy findings were so similar to those in bangungut, he suspected that food poisoning might be responsible for the disease in humans.

His research paid off, because the next six nightmare cases that reached the hospital offered an opportunity to test his theory. All had consumed preserved fish or foods considered bangungutgenic. These persons became acutely ill shortly after falling asleep and died immediately or recovered completely within several minutes or hours.

Some individuals develop nightmares after eating a heavy meal. If the food is tainted the outcome is not favorable but this is no reason for blaming nightmares for taking the person to the River Styx.

On the other hand, it is conceivable that men and women with heart disease might get into trouble during a terrifying dream or nightmare. The old ticker reacts to stress situations in a dream world in much the same way as it does when awake. The lips of those who succumb are sealed forever and, therefore, we will never know.

HEART MURMUR

Mrs. T. writes: My 15 year old daughter complained of shortness of breath. I took her to a doctor and he said she has a heart murmur. Is this a curable condition?

REPLY

Not if the murmur stems from a scarred valve. Ask your physician for more details about the girl's condition, and if there is any doubt in his mind concerning its management, request a consultation. At 15 she has many years ahead of her and the entire problem should be understood thoroughly.

HOT TUB RELAXES

R. W. writes: Will soaking in a hot tub for an hour every night help hemorrhoids?

REPLY

It may have a soothing and cleansing effect but will not cause the hemorrhoids to shrink or disappear. The best remedy is surgical removal or, in some ment. ashrdlun n nu nu nu nn instances, the injection treatment. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on hemorrhoids.

SUBCUTANEOUS FAT

B. D. writes: What causes fat under the skin to disappear as you get older?

REPLY

Older persons tend to lose weight because of changes in appetite, digestion, and chewing difficulties. In addition, the skin loses its elasticity. In this respect, not all the flabbiness is due to weight loss.

SORE TOES

G. A. W. writes: What causes pain in the tips of the toes on walking, regardless of the size of the shoes?

REPLY

COUGH ON EXERTION

Mrs. M. W. writes: Why does my husband start coughing when he exerts himself? He has chronic bronchitis.

REPLY

This is a common manifestation in chronic bronchitis because the added exertion stretches the inflamed bronchi. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on bronchitis.

TOMORROW: Separation of retina from eyeball.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

In a new survey of advertising business called "Madison Avenue, U. S. A.," Martin Mayer insists the advertising fraternity is much maligned. Far from talking like high school sophomores, says Mayer (example: "Run that one up the flagpole, Manny, and let's see if someone salutes"), the actual ad executive is blunt, direct and business-like. When a prospective client once asked an agency president what he'd do if a carefully detailed campaign was rejected, the president replied smoothly, "We'll present our second-best idea."

Stung by the general assumption that every poor soul in the advertising business has an ulcer, a Tide magazine panel recently queried 1,400 top ad executives on the state of their health. Only four per cent admitted they suffered from ulcers. Eighty-eight per cent declared they were in perfect shape, ready to wangle an account away from a rival at the drop of a thermometer.

People In All Sections Of Nation Helping Clinton Rebuild Its School

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—In only about one-half the area of the world today, can free elections be held. We are lucky. And, despite some graft here and there, despite the influence of big campaign contributions, and last-minute accusations, our elections usually represent a pretty accurate, healthy cross-section of American opinion.

While Americans were voting or making up their minds how to vote, another healthy phenomenon was taking place in America which you don't find in some other parts of the world—an outpouring of money and sympathy from all sorts of people for the children who were bombed out of their school at Clinton, Tenn., and the synagogue which was dynamited in Atlanta, Ga.

Down in Atlanta a public school had suffered a fire some years ago, and the synagogue opened its doors for the children to study there. So, after the synagogue was dynamited, the children of this school dipped into their savings banks and gave $600 to the synagogue.

Fortunately the synagogue was insured. But that $600 from the children of the Atlanta public school actually meant more in friendship than an insurance policy. So did the vigorous reaction of all the people of Atlanta, and meanwhile, out in Yreka, Calif., Joey Nichols, president of the Yreka High School student body, pledged a "coke for freedom of education" from 625 students and citizens of Yreka to help rebuild the Clinton School house in Tennessee. Yreka, in northern California, is a long way from the foothills of Eastern Tennessee, but the kids of Yreka High wanted to contribute the cost of a drink each, which is about the same price as a coke, to help rebuild the Clinton School.

Brotherhood In Action

All sorts of heart-warming messages have come to the Clinton School, from all sorts of people and from all over the U. S. A. Here are just a few of them: An old dishwasher, Reno, Nev.—"Have read Pearson's column. We in this old U. S. A. will take care of our own when they deserve it." Mrs. G. A. Romano, San Diego—"Please accept this check from my family of five. My children wish we could all do more." Robert and Joanne Oberhards, Arlington, Va.—"In a world filled with hate, we the school children of today must demonstrate that there is still hope of salvaging the brotherhood of men. We are raising our voices in defiance of the hate-mongers and bombers by contributing our coke money to help rebuild your school." C. N. Fox, Atlanta, Ga.—"Sorry I cannot give more to help rebuild your edifice of learning that ignorance destroyed." Mrs. Florence Johnson, New York—"My little girl, seven years old, prays that Clinton will have another fine school and hopes her contribution will help make it possible." Mrs. Donald W. Sharp, Fairfax, Va.—"This is not much but perhaps it will help rebuild your school. I am so sorry this fanatical thing happened to a community that is trying to live right and do right, and I hope it won't discourage your boys and girls. Most of the rest of the world sees Clinton, Tennessee, as a place where people are reasonable and sensible and good, and it is too bad that a few fanatical outsiders (surely) were able to commit such an enormous crime."

Real Sacrifice

One of the earliest offers of help came from Aubrey Galyon, secretary of the Building Trades Council of Knoxville, just 20 miles from Clinton, and from David Parks, Southeastern representative of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers to contribute labor to rebuild the school. This will be not only a sizable gift, but means a real sacrifice because labor has been partly unemployed in east Tennessee and this is how the American people react when other people suffer from fanatics and hate-mongers.

Note—Contributions to help rebuild the Clinton School House can be sent direct to the Clinton School House, Clinton, Tenn.

Merry-Go-Round

Henry Cabot Lodge, our Ambassador to the United Nations, wants a new, more glamorous job with the elections over. He has one eye on the post of Ambassador to France, though his secret ambition is to succeed John Foster Dulles as Secretary of State . . . Dictator Khrushchev has become so missile-minded he has assigned his own son to work in a missile laboratory . . . Speaker Sam Rayburn has assured worried Southerners he won't let the Democratic liberals, with a big gain in the new Congress, take over the House. He will juggle committee appointments, he says, to keep control in the hands of the same conservative Southerners who have been running the House for the past decade. . . . The British are urging the United States to take a more realistic attitude toward Communist China now the elections are over. Foreign Secretary Lloyd passed on this advice to Secretary Dulles when he stopped off in London en route to Italy and Formosa . . . President Eisenhower had to order Secretary of the Navy Gates to promote Admiral Rickover, father of the atomic submarine. At first, Gates sided with the admirals who don't like Rickover's unorthodox behavior and background (he's the son of a Polish pants presser in Chicago). At one point Secretary Gates complained to friends that Rickover had caused him so much mental anguish that he once absentmindedly ordered Rickover for lunch . . . Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico is quietly investigating reports that Adm. Lewis Strauss sought his appointment as Secretary of Commerce in order to promote the peaceful development of atomic power by the private utility companies. Anderson will cross-examine Strauss sharply when he comes up for Senate confirmation . . . Army scientists came up with a nickname for the giant metal ball that the Army tried to shoot into orbit. They wanted to call it "Hiball." However, they were overruled and it was finally named "Beacon."

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

ATLANTA, Georgia — It was evening. I was walking down Peachtree Street in the blue shadows. Automobiles waited at the red light and an elegant old lady with a cane took her unhurried time crossing. A cab pulled to the curb. On his trunk rack was the sign: "See Rock City."

The neons came to life. They winked seductively for restaurants and hotels and department stores and for God. The city is big and sedate. It is a mannerly community, even when it doesn't like you.

It doesn't like me. That's understandable. I'm an unsympathetic reporter from another part of the United States. I am here to write a series of articles on the bombing of The Temple. Lack of sympathy is met by lack of sympathy. The blue eyes that stare at me are cold.

I got my story. It is, I think, a good one. It is not an hysterical document. It is an assortment of small facts which, collectively, make sense. The facts are nasty, but they are small. The haters who bomb churches, for example, do not number more than 100 men in all the South. These are the noisy little lunatics.

The Temple wall is being repaired. Two carpenters slide putty between window panes and frames. Rabbi Rothschild sits in his study and shakes his head. "Why didn't they paint the frames before they put them in? Now I'll never get the windows open."

The damage was estimated at $200,000. It was an hysterical estimate. The side porch, the office, the upstairs ladies' lounge, the auditorium, should cost more than $30,000 to repair. The big windows with the blue glass will cost something extra.

Five men are in jail. I talked to them. One is a cripple who drags his foot; two seem to me to be effeminate; a fourth got his bigotry from his lovely mother; the fifth doesn't like anybody. The best one can hope is that the police have the right men.

The Atlanta Police Department did nothing to help me. I've covered stories in many parts of the world, but I have never encountered such courteous rejection. Captain Little, for example, has conducted the investigation since the bombing. I phoned him three times. Not only could I not see him; I didn't even get a call-back.

His boss, Superintendent of Detectives Glyn Cowan, made an appointment with me at police headquarters. He didn't keep it. His secretary said that Cowan was sorry; he had just left on an important case. I studied the newspapers that afternoon and the following morning. I saw no important case mentioned.

I stopped in to see Chief Jenkins. He had just left for Miami. I stopped in to see Sheriff Grimes. He said ain't nobody gonna see those boys in jail. I pointed out that the police had admitted Southern newspapermen to see them. The sheriff phoned to check. Yes, he said, there were some newspapermen in to see the five prisoners, but the police had requested him to keep me out.

He didn't know why. They gave no reason. "I gotta live with those people," he said. "I wanna hep you too, but you can't see those boys." I saw the defense attorney, Essley Burdine. He said he would sue out a writ in court for me if the sheriff turned me down. I told this to Mr. Grimes. He said all right, that I could see those five boys.

I saw them. They are in separate cell blocks. On the wall on each floor was a new notice from the sheriff, announcing that, of the 480 prisoners in the jail, these five are to have no visitors except their attorneys and families.

Last, I wanted to talk to Mrs. Abe Shurgin, executive secretary of The Temple. When I arrived for the appointment, she said that she was sorry, but that I could not quote her. I asked why. She said that she had orders from The Temple president, William Schwartz Jr. I said that I could not agree to such restrictions, nor could I believe that anyone would issue such an order.

She got Mr. Schwartz on the phone. I spoke to him. He said that not only could I not quote Mrs. Shurgin, but further I couldn't even quote the conversation I was having wtih him. "If you do not agree to this," he said, "there is nothing we have to say to you."

Later I sat with the rabbi. He is a big man, intellectually. He said he was sorry for what happened. He also said he hoped that the five men are not put to death for the bombing.

The difference is in upbringing.

KEYSER — A group of Keyser citizens has launched plans for a nine-hole golf course and the building of a country club, to be constructed on land that will be leased from the Upper Potomac Shrine Club on U.S. Route 50, approximately nine miles east of Keyser.

Job Picture Improves In W. Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—West Virginia's employment picture improved during the two two months ended Sept. 15 with the number of jobholders in the state's three metropolitan areas increasing 3,700 for the period, it was reported Tuesday.

However, the Department of Employment Security said mid-September employment in the areas was lower than the same date last year. The three metropolitan areas are Charleston, Wheeling - Steubenville and Huntington-Ashland-Ironton.

The bi-monthly report said the Charleston area, as of Sept. 15, listed employment of 100,400, a rise of 2,000 from two months earlier. However, the total was 4,950 lower than the mid-September report of 1957.

The increase included 200 in manufacturing, while the remainder was registered in non-manufacturing jobs. Unemployment totaled 12,100, a 2,300 drop from July 15, and equaled 10.8 per cent of the work force.

Meanwhile, employment in the Wheeling - Steubenville area rose 200 to a total of 126,200 as of Sept. 15, or 11,000 lower than the year-ago figure. Unemployment dropped 1,750 from mid-July to 15,450, or 10.8 per cent of the work force.

Based on expectations of area employers, non-farm employment in the area will rise further in the coming two and four months, the report said.

Total employment in the Huntington-Ashland - Ironton area recorded its largest bi-monthly gain this year, up 1,500 to 78,250 as of Sept. 15. However, it was still 9,450 below the mid-September figure a year ago and unemployment amounted to 14.5 per cent of the available working force.

However, the department said prospects during the coming two and four-months periods indicated further gains in employment.

Romney Mayor, Council Delay Curfew Action

Parents Differ On Proposal

Mayor David Shear and members of the Town Council met with a group of parents from Romney to discuss plans for the ordinance.

Several of the fathers voiced opinions on the proposed law, some in favor and some opposed. One group of fathers suggested an ordinance for only the delinquent juveniles in the town.

Monday's meeting was an outgrowth of a well organized teen-ager gang being rounded up by West Virginia authorities last month in October.

The gang, according to West Virginia State Police, had operated in the Romney area for some time and was well organized with all the markings of turning into a serious gang of criminals.

After the group of youths was apprehended, State Police said they even found a list of places to be raided in the future. At the time of arrest, West Virginia authorities said it was high time the Romney Town Council instituted a curfew ordinance with "teeth in it" to help curb the juvenile problem.

Mayor Shear said Monday the gang is scheduled to be tried on Thursday in Hampshire County Circuit Court, and he felt the council should wait until after the hearings before passing a curfew ordinance.

Mayor David Shear and members of the Town Council met with a group of parents from Romney to discuss plans for the ordinance.

Several of the fathers voiced opinions on the proposed law, some in favor and some opposed. One group of fathers suggested an ordinance for only the delinquent juveniles in the town.

Monday's meeting was an outgrowth of a well organized teen-ager gang being rounded up by West Virginia authorities last month in October.

The gang, according to West Virginia State Police, had operated in the Romney area for some time and was well organized with all the markings of turning into a serious gang of criminals.

After the group of youths was apprehended, State Police said they even found a list of places to be raided in the future. At the time of arrest, West Virginia authorities said it was high time the Romney Town Council instituted a curfew ordinance with "teeth in it" to help curb the juvenile problem.

Mayor Shear said Monday the gang is scheduled to be tried on Thursday in Hampshire County Circuit Court, and he felt the council should wait until after the hearings before passing a curfew ordinance.

Troilus, 25-1 Shot, Captures 7th At Laurel

Registers Upset And Pays $52.50

LAUREL, Md., Nov. 4 (AP)—Bayard Sharp's Troilus gave up the lead in the middle of the stretch drive then came on in a three-horse photo finish today for an upset victory in the Spalding Lowe Jenkins Purse.

Troilus traveled the mile and one-sixteenth on a good track in 1:45 4/5 to pay $52.40, $18.60 and $9. Open View returned $11 and $7.20 and Nimmer was worth $10.20 to his backers.

The victory was worth $15,196 to the owner of Troilus. Out of the running were such pre-race favorites as Walter M. Jeffords' Honk and Frank Simmon's Snommis.

Troilus suddenly propped in midstretch and Nimmer and Open View moved by. Jockey Nick Shuk went to work with heels and whip to regain command in the final stride.

Braves Would Move Wichita To Jacksonville

Higher Class Rating Sought For Houston

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Important decisions affecting the future of the minor leagues may be made Wednesday and Thursday at the special two-day meeting of baseball's realignment committee with top executives of the National Assn.

The meetings, called by President George Trautman, will be devoted exclusively to possible consolidation or switching of clubs in the higher minors. Representatives of seven leagues have been invited for the purpose of appraising their situations and determining what, if any, changes in the map should be made.

The leagues to be represented include the Pacific Coast, International, Texas, Western and Sally as well as the American and Southern associations.

Uppermost among the problems confronting the minors are Louisville's plight in the American Assn.; the St. Louis Cardinals' threat not to operate their Houston farm unless the Texas League club is advanced to higher classification; and Milwaukee's declaration to switch its Wichita club of the American Assn. to Jacksonville.

Venezuelan Colt Escribeno To Vie In International

It was the surprise entry of the 4-year-old Venezuelan colt Escribeno, increasing the field for the Nov. 11 race to 10.

The dark brown colt will try to do what another Venezuelan did in 1955. That year El Chama won the International, with countryman Prendase second.

Six of the speedsters already are quartered here. Three more—the Irish team of Ballymoss and Tharp and the German Orsini—are scheduled to come in on the same cargo plane from London late Thursday.

No date has been set for the arrival of Escribeno, who is expected to round out the field.

On the second day of last year's event 219 horses changed hands at a cost of $408,050.

A $10,500 bid, the highest for a yearling, brought Twinkle Star for Sanders Russell, a Stevenson, Ala., agent. The mare is the daughter of Adios Boy, a colt pacing champion a few years ago.

Brown Favored To Whip Busso

Non-Title Contest Is Set For Florida

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Lightweight Champion Joe Brown Tuesday was a 3-1 favorite to whip Johnny Busso when they open this city's new exhibition hall with a 10-round nontitle fight Wednesday night.

Brown last fought on July 23 when he retained his title in 15 rounds against Kenny Lane in Houston, Tex., and the champion from New Orleans figures to have it over Busso in their nationally televised bout.

Brown has had 97 fights, winning 71 of them, including 32 by knockouts.

Busso last appeared in the ring Sept. 19 when he lost a return match to Carlos Ortiz. The Chicago boxer has had 42 fights of which he won 15 by knockouts and ranks sixth nationally.

Busso, who has been on the scene several days, probably will have five pounds advantage in the weights, with Brown going in at about 136 pounds.

Bruce Meets Aggies, Seek Tie For Lead

Westernport Scene Of Today's Contest

Coach Leonard Ritchie's Bruce High School Bulldogs, very much in the running for the W.M.I. Soccer League title, need a win to tie Valley High School for first place and hope to attain that goal when they do battle with the Flintstone High Aggies today at 3:30 P.M. in Westernport.

Valley moved ahead in the championship race on Monday by beating Beall, 6-2, in the Black Knights' final game of the season.

If Bruce can turn back Flintstone today and beat or tie Beall at Frostburg on Friday the title will go to Westernport for the first time in six years. A tie today and a win Friday also would enable the Bulldogs to finish on would mean that Bruce has to top. A defeat today, however, defeat Beall on Friday to tie for the championship which the Lonaconing school has won for the past five years.

Flintstone has sailed to win in six starts this year but the Aggies have engaged in three tie games with Mt. Savage, Beall and Valley in their last three outings and are expected to make a fight of it. Coach "Stony" Jackson's team would like nothing better than to pull an upset after having lost to Bruce earlier in the season by the score of 4-1. The Aggies, fans will recall, lost to Valley, 7-0, then roared right back to battle the Knights to a 2-2 tie.

Basilio And Robinson May Fight In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson may defend his middleweight title against Carmen Basilio in the Chicago Stadium next February or March.

That possibility was expressed Tuesday by Harold (Killer) Johnson, a co-manager of Robinson, who dethroned Basilio in Chicago Stadium last March and has been inactive since.

Johnson, a Chicago restaurant owner, said:

"It is my understanding that Ray wants to meet Basilio again and we decided Chicago should be the site and next February or March the date."

Twilight Loop Meets Tonight

Seven Teams Post Forfeits For 1959

A meeting of the Twilight Baseball League will be held today at 7 p. m., at Floyd Winebrenner's Tavern at Klondyke.

By-laws will be approved by the teams and other business transacted.

Seven teams already have posted forfeits for the 1959 season. They are Barton, Zihlman, Lonaconing, Westernport, holdovers from the 1958 circuit, and Franklin, Mt. Savage and Klondyke, newcomers.

Another team is sought to complete an eight-club circuit. Others interested are urged to have representatives at tonight's meeting.

Cards Lose To Japanese Tossers, 9-2

Nakanishi Wallops Pinch Grand Slam

OSAKA, Japan (UPI) — The Japanese All - Stars once again stole the home run thunder from the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday and handed the major leaguers their second loss in eight games on a tour here when Futoshi Nakanishi's grand - slam home run sparked a 9-2 triumph before a crowd of 25,000.

Nakanishi's blast, a pinch hit with two out off Bob Blaylock in the fourth inning, and another in the sixth by Isami Okamoto were the sixth and seventh hit by the Japanese during the tour against only five for the Cardinals.

The victory, on the heels of a hard - fought 10 - inning loss in Tokyo Monday, prompted new rejoicing by Japanese baseball experts over the showing of their top players on this tour. Tokuro Konishi, dean of Japan's baseball commentators, declared the "heroic efforts of the Japanese players are unprecedented against a major league team."

Tadashi Sugiura of the Nankai Hawks shared the hero's spotlight with Nakanishi today. The 22-year-old submarine ball pitcher held the Cardinals to five hits, shutting them out for the first seven innings. He didn't waver until the eighth when the Cards tallied both their runs in a rally started by shortstop Lee Tate's single. Alex Grammas pinch-hit a double that moved Tate to third and Tate scored on Don Blasingame's sacrifice fly to right.

Sugiura fanned Wally Moon for the second out and then Stan Musial ripped a double to right to score Grammas before Ken Boyer popped to short to end the frame.

Musial led the Cards with two doubles.

Mont Praises Navy's Passer

Tranchini Best Terps Will Face

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Navy quarterback Joe Tranchini was termed a better passer than anyone Maryland has faced so far this season by Terp Coach Tommy Mont Tuesday.

Tranchini will be picking on Maryland's greatest single weakness when the two teams meet Saturday in Baltimore. But Mont feels that this phase of the Maryland game is improving.

"We didn't play our best game by any means against South Carolina last week," said Mont. "They've got a solid ball club, a real fine team, but everything went our way."

As to the Middies Mont calls them as good as any Maryland opponent.

"We'll have to be at our very best to beat Navy," he said. "They've got great spirit, and they fight you to the end. Even against Notre Dame they kept going with the score heavy against them."

Venezuelan Colt Escribeno To Vie In International

It was the surprise entry of the 4-year-old Venezuelan colt Escribeno, increasing the field for the Nov. 11 race to 10.

The dark brown colt will try to do what another Venezuelan did in 1955. That year El Chama won the International, with countryman Prendase second.

Six of the speedsters already are quartered here. Three more—the Irish team of Ballymoss and Tharp and the German Orsini—are scheduled to come in on the same cargo plane from London late Thursday.

No date has been set for the arrival of Escribeno, who is expected to round out the field.

229 Harness Horses Sold For $408,050

On the second day of last year's event 219 horses changed hands at a cost of $408,050.

The emphasis for the second straight day was on breeding and racing stock with Great Lullwater, a trotting start of the current year, commanding top price of $43,000. Emile Ratte, Quebec, Canada, turned in the bid in his capacity as an agent.

A $10,500 bid, the highest for a yearling, brought Twinkle Star for Sanders Russell, a Stevenson, Ala., agent. The mare is the daughter of Adios Boy, a colt pacing champion a few years ago.

Brown Favored To Whip Busso

Non-Title Contest Is Set For Florida

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Lightweight Champion Joe Brown Tuesday was a 3-1 favorite to whip Johnny Busso when they open this city's new exhibition hall with a 10-round nontitle fight Wednesday night.

Brown last fought on July 23 when he retained his title in 15 rounds against Kenny Lane in Houston, Tex., and the champion from New Orleans figures to have it over Busso in their nationally televised bout.

Brown has had 97 fights, winning 71 of them, including 32 by knockouts.

Busso last appeared in the ring Sept. 19 when he lost a return match to Carlos Ortiz. The Chicago boxer has had 42 fights of which he won 15 by knockouts and ranks sixth nationally.

Busso, who has been on the scene several days, probably will have five pounds advantage in the weights, with Brown going in at about 136 pounds.

Westernport Scene Of Today's Contest

Coach Leonard Ritchie's Bruce High School Bulldogs, very much in the running for the W.M.I. Soccer League title, need a win to tie Valley High School for first place and hope to attain that goal when they do battle with the Flintstone High Aggies today at 3:30 P.M. in Westernport.

Valley moved ahead in the championship race on Monday by beating Beall, 6-2, in the Black Knights' final game of the season.

If Bruce can turn back Flintstone today and beat or tie Beall at Frostburg on Friday the title will go to Westernport for the first time in six years. A tie today and a win Friday also would enable the Bulldogs to finish on would mean that Bruce has to top. A defeat today, however, defeat Beall on Friday to tie for the championship which the Lonaconing school has won for the past five years.

Flintstone has failed to win in six starts this year but the Aggies have engaged in three tie games with Mt. Savage, Beall and Valley in their last three outings and are expected to make a fight of it. Coach "Stony" Jackson's team would like nothing better than to pull an upset after having lost to Bruce earlier in the season by the score of 4-1. The Aggies, fans will recall, lost to Valley, 7-0, then roared right back to battle the Knights to a 2-2 tie.

Basilio And Robinson May Fight In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson may defend his middleweight title against Carmen Basilio in the Chicago Stadium next February or March.

That possibility was expressed Tuesday by Harold (Killer) Johnson, a co-manager of Robinson, who dethroned Basilio in Chicago Stadium last March and has been inactive since.

Johnson, a Chicago restaurant owner, said:

"It is my understanding that Ray wants to meet Basilio again and we decided Chicago should be the site and next February or March the date."

Registers Upset And Pays $52.50

LAUREL, Md., Nov. 4 (AP)—Bayard Sharp's Troilus gave up the lead in the middle of the stretch drive then came on in a three-horse photo finish today for an upset victory in the Spalding Lowe Jenkins Purse.

Troilus traveled the mile and one-sixteenth on a good track in 1:45 4/5 to pay $52.40, $18.60 and $9. Open View returned $11 and $7.20 and Nimmer was worth $10.20 to his backers.

The victory was worth $15,196 to the owner of Troilus. Out of the running were such pre-race favorites as Walter M. Jeffords' Honk and Frank Simmon's Snommis.

Troilus suddenly propped in midstretch and Nimmer and Open View moved by. Jockey Nick Shuk went to work with heels and whip to regain command in the final stride.

Another team is sought to complete an eight-club circuit. Others interested are urged to have representatives at tonight's meeting.

Cards Lose To Japanese Tossers, 9-2

Nakanishi Wallops Pinch Grand Slam

OSAKA, Japan (UPI) — The Japanese All - Stars once again stole the home run thunder from the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday and handed the major leaguers their second loss in eight games on a tour here when Futoshi Nakanishi's grand - slam home run sparked a 9-2 triumph before a crowd of 25,000.

Nakanishi's blast, a pinch hit with two out off Bob Blaylock in the fourth inning, and another in the sixth by Isami Okamoto were the sixth and seventh hit by the Japanese during the tour against only five for the Cardinals.

The victory, on the heels of a hard - fought 10 - inning loss in Tokyo Monday, prompted new rejoicing by Japanese baseball experts over the showing of their top players on this tour. Tokuro Konishi, dean of Japan's baseball commentators, declared the "heroic efforts of the Japanese players are unprecedented against a major league team."

Tadashi Sugiura of the Nankai Hawks shared the hero's spotlight with Nakanishi today. The 22-year-old submarine ball pitcher held the Cardinals to five hits, shutting them out for the first seven innings. He didn't waver until the eighth when the Cards tallied both their runs in a rally started by shortstop Lee Tate's single. Alex Grammas pinch-hit a double that moved Tate to third and Tate scored on Don Blasingame's sacrifice fly to right.

Sugiura fanned Wally Moon for the second out and then Stan Musial ripped a double to right to score Grammas before Ken Boyer popped to short to end the frame.

Musial led the Cards with two doubles.

Higher Class Rating Sought For Houston

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Important decisions affecting the future of the minor leagues may be made Wednesday and Thursday at the special two-day meeting of baseball's realignment committee with top executives of the National Assn.

The meetings, called by President George Trautman, will be devoted exclusively to possible consolidation or switching of clubs in the higher minors. Representatives of seven leagues have been invited for the purpose of appraising their situations and determining what, if any, changes in the map should be made.

The leagues to be represented include the Pacific Coast, International, Texas, Western and Sally as well as the American and Southern associations.

Uppermost among the problems confronting the minors are Louisville's plight in the American Assn.; the St. Louis Cardinals' threat not to operate their Houston farm unless the Texas League club is advanced to higher classification; and Milwaukee's declaration to switch its Wichita club of the American Assn. to Jacksonville.

Mont Praises Navy's Passer

Tranchini Best Terps Will Face

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Navy quarterback Joe Tranchini was termed a better passer than anyone Maryland has faced so far this season by Terp Coach Tommy Mont Tuesday.

Tranchini will be picking on Maryland's greatest single weakness when the two teams meet Saturday in Baltimore. But Mont feels that this phase of the Maryland game is improving.

"We didn't play our best game by any means against South Carolina last week," said Mont. "They've got a solid ball club, a real fine team, but everything went our way."

As to the Middies Mont calls them as good as any Maryland opponent.

"We'll have to be at our very best to beat Navy," he said. "They've got great spirit, and they fight you to the end. Even against Notre Dame they kept going with the score heavy against them."

LSU Retains Top Ten Lead, Iowa Second

Ohio State Slides From 5th To 16th In AP Weekly Poll

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Match the top five teams in the Southeastern Conference against the top five in the Big Ten and what would happen?

That question has stirred up a lot of lively and never-decided arguments in football circles. And the opinion of 165 experts, as reflected in this week's Associated Press ranking poll, does little to settle them.

The balloting of sports writers and broadcasters gave Louisiana State, the unbeaten, untied SEC leader, the edge over once-tied Iowa, the Big Ten pacesetter; gave Northwestern a shade over Auburn and put Wisconsin and Purdue ahead of Mississippi.

Monopolize Top Ten

The two conferences virtually monopolized the top ten places in the ratings, leaving room only for Army (No. 3), Oklahoma (No. 6) and the Air Force Academy (No. 10).

For the second straight week LSU, Iowa and Army ran 1-2-3 in the balloting, with not too many points separating them. Then came the implausible Northwestern team, which lost its top ten rating after a defeat by Iowa and regained it by handing Ohio State its first conference defeat in two seasons.

Louisiana State was given the No. 1 position on 82 of the 165 ballots and drew 1,443 points on the usual 10-9-8 etc., point system. Iowa drew 54 first-place votes and 1,379 points and Army drew 1,105 points. Northwestern, without a single vote for first, piled up 815 points.

Auburn, in fifth place, trailed Northwestern by only three points. Then came Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Purdue, Mississippi and Air Force to round out the top ten.

Buckeyes Take Plunge

Colorado, ranked ninth the previous week, dropped clear out of the ratings after a loss to Oklahoma. Ohio State slid from fifth to 16th.

Northwestern takes on Wisconsin in a Big Ten game that could bring another fast shuffle of the ratings and Iowa plays Minnesota, which hasn't won a game.

LSU, cautioned by Coach Paul Dietzel to accept the No. 1 spot with humility, faces a Duke team that almost upset Georgia Tech last week. Army invades Texas to play 13th-ranked Rice.

Auburn vs. Mississippi State, Oklahoma at Iowa State, Mississippi vs. Houston and Air Force at Denver are this week's other games for the leaders.

MacPhail Declines Comment On Report Of Joining Orioles

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Lee MacPhail, New York Yankee executive, declined comment Tuesday on reports he may be headed for the Baltimore Orioles as general manager.

MacPhail and Paul Richards, field manager and general manager of the Baltimore Baseball team, conferred here Monday. Richards reportedly wants to step down as general manager to give full time to his job as field boss.

MacPhail admitted the huddle with Richards was about a position with the Baltimore club but declined further comment. Richards left for Texas after the talk.

MacPhail, director of player personnel for the world champion Yankees, is here for a minor league re-alignment meeting which starts Wednesday.

Bill Cretchley Dies A Colorful Athlete

60-0 Score Correct Blind's Interpreter

By C. V. BURNS

A BASEBALL PLAYER, who landed a punch that was heard throughout Allegany county 38 years ago, died last week at a local hospital.

The "oldtimers" knew him as "Big Bill" Cretchley because that's the name he used when he

BILL CRETCHLEY
In L.A.C. Uniform

played baseball, boxed and wrestled in carnivals. His real name was Calvin Shipes and Crutchley was his mother's maiden name.

"Bill" died at the age of 57.

He first attracted attention here as a sandlot player and it was during a series between Col. Nelson W. Russler's Cumberland Colts and Frostburg in 1920 that he uncorked a haymaker on the person of one Mike Hoban, scrappy outfielder of the Demons, at the Frostburg ball park, in one of the most exciting finishes we've ever seen.

It was the 11th inning of the opener of a five-game series. The Colts had taken a 6-5 lead at the top of that frame. Hoban had been "riding" Cretchley throughout the game and as the Demons came off the field for their turn at bat, Mike made a remark as he passed "Bill" at second base. Cretchley lashed out with a terrific right and down went his tormentor. The knockdown was a signal for the fans to swarm on the playing field and as they continued to mill about Umpire Sammy Morgan called the game. Several Cumberland players grabbed bats and backed up against the grandstand ready to defend themselves in case the action came their way.

The teams decided to start the series over the following weekend. Mike and Bill continued to play but there was no more trouble.

We recall the Hoban - Cretchley incident so vividly because we scored that game August 15, 1920.

Emmett Flynn, now Cumberland chief of police, and Jesse "Lefty" Bell were the Cumberland pitchers in that game. Other local players in that series included Henry "Ditty" Stitcher, Nate Dreyer, Bobby Blair, Russell "Mike" Diehl, George "Brindle" Long, Walter Speicher, Joe Buskey, Raymond Beck, Joe Zapf, Allan Underdonk and Joe Becker. Among the Frostburg players we recall were "Blackie" Matese, Bill Darrow, Johnny Rose, Fay Anderson, "Skeets" McKenzie, Bill Craze and "Ike" Wilhelm.

"Big Bill" was the idol of followers of the Liberty Athletic Club on the days when that sandlot team played to large crowds each weekend on the Rolling Mill diamond in the early 1920s.

He was the team's cleanup hitter, was a classy fly chaser with a powerful arm and took his regular turn on the rubber for the teams managed by Paul K. Collins and Irvin "Cogs" Hamilton.

Cretchley loved to argue and as a result had many hecklers. He had a quick temper and when they got "on" him he would keep the place in an uproar by talking back to the spectators while at the plate, on the mound or in the oufield.

Whenever a carnival hit town you could bet the big fellow would be on the scene challenging wrestlers with the show. He appeared in many grappling exhibitions and it is believed he suffered a neck injury that continued to bother him later in life.

"Bill" tried his hand at boxing but his career was a short one because he made the mistake of challenging a young middleweight named Patsy Gainer. Bobby Greene had whipped Gainer and it was decreed that Patsy dispose of other local contenders before getting another shot at Greene. Gainer obliged by stopping three challengers and Cretchley was one of the unfortunate victims.

We always liked the big fellow. In fact, he was one of the most colorful local athletes we have known.

His many friends are going to miss him.

BELIEVE IT or not, but quite a few local football fans thought that was a typographical error in Saturday's News when the list of football scores showed Dauphin High of East Harrisburg, Pa., beating Mel Henry's North Hagerstown High gridders by the score of 60-0.

Fort Hill and Allegany followers, especially, were stunned because the Hubs held the Sentinels to a 6-6 tie and beat the Campers by the score of 32-12.

"You sure that wasn't a college team?" one fan asked.

EDDIE BLIND, the genial Canadian, who serves as starter at Fairgo and other Maryland race tracks, won't run into trouble making the Russian horsemen understand the conditions and rules under which the International is run at Laurel on November 11.

He has a personal interpreter on his regular staff in Johnny Silow, who has been one of Blind's assistant starters for many years, and understands and speaks Russian well. Silow has appeared at Fairgo with Blind the past several years.

FAIRMONT (W. Va.) apparently is in the same position that Cumberland was in 1951 when a series of bad pro shows killed off boxing here.

Last week, only the performance of boxers in the prelims prevented the show there from being a complete flop, according to Al Ludwick, Fairmont Times writer.

Holly Mims and Johnny Cunningham, the Baltimore trial horse, were in the main go and failed to please. "They pummeled each other about the arms and shoulders but they were fooling no one," Ludwick wrote.

"After the main go, referee Rocky Marciano held the crowd a little less than spellbound with a little bit of nothing that went along the line — 'the cleanest match I've refereed . . . these boys are real professionals' and more of the same," Ludwick continued.

The Fairmont writer said the fans can see less bad bouts on television without leaving the house. No cash charge, either.

DO YOU KNOW that the principal regional manufacturer of hula hoops is located near Odenton, Anne Arundel county, Md.?

The things are made by extruding (forcing) dyed and melted linear polyetheline plastic through dies into straight tubing —then bending the cooled tubing into hoops around wooden forms that measure 15, 25 or 36 inches in diameter. The ends are braded together through an insert plug.

The hula hoop craze began in Australia in August and whirled across the United States from west to east.

WHEN Allegany High School's football team plays Moorefield here November 14 it will mark their first meeting in 11 years. The Campers and Jackets met here in 1946 and 1947 and the locals won both games, 19-0 and 14-12.

The LaSalle - Moorefield game here Saturday night is the first meeting of these schools in football since 1946. The Hardy countians hold a 3-2 edge in this series. Two games ended in scoreless ties.

LaSalle first met Moorefield in 1928, the year football was started at the North Centre street school and Arthur Slocum was the coach. It was the second game on the Explorers' schedule and they won 18-3.

ALTOONA Catholic High's Marauders, who host LaSalle on November 14, won a 9-6 thriller from Johnstown Catholic High Friday night on a fourth quarter field goal by Don Smith, second string back.

Altoona's record is 5-2 for the season.

MARTINSBURG'S Bulldogs apparently were headed for their first victory last Friday after five setbacks until Coach "Eck" Miers' Warren County Wildcats blocked a Jimmy McGowan punt.

Center Tom Curry picked up the ball on the Martinsburg 13 and raced into the end zone for a touchdown with two minutes 50 seconds to play to give Front Royal a 12-7 win.

Kerkorian Recalled By Colts

Unitas Sidelined Due To Injuries

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts today recalled former quarterback Gary Kerkorian from his law practice in California to help fill in for the injured Johnny Unitas.

The Colts management confirmed reluctantly today that Unitas, the free-flinging signal-caller who has led the Colts to six straight victories, will be out of action for three to four weeks.

They previously contended that his injury in last Sunday's game with the Green Bay Packers amounted only to a bruise and that he would be ready for the Giants next Sunday in New York.

Kerkorian was the No. 1 quarterback for the Colts in 1954, his first year out of Stanford.

He dropped off the squad after the 1955 season to devote full time to his law studies at Georgetown Law School.

By that time George Shaw, from Oregon, had gained the No. 1 slot, and Shaw's understudy was a cast-off from the Pittsburgh Steelers who had been fooling around with a sandlot team.

During the '56 season, Shaw's knee was banged up in a good, hard tackle. Since Unitas was untried, the Colts called over to Washington to Kerkorian and asked him to come back to work —part time — while he continued his studies.

Threw Two Passes

He did. But he only got to throw two passes. He completed both, but by that time, Unitas had caught fire, and moved into the front line.

Now the ever-ready Kerkorian is coming back again. He is due in from Inglewood, Calif., in time to start workouts Thursday. Whether he's in sufficient shape to play against the Giants Sunday is up to Colts Coach Weeb Ewbank.

Ewbank explained why the front office wanted to keep Unitas' true condition hidden from the Giants, who last weekend tripped up previously unbeaten Cleveland, 21-17.

"We kept quiet and asked (the team physician) to do the same because we wanted the Giants to get ready for John all week and then spring George on them," he said.

Brown Is Available

Even with Shaw and Kerkorian on tap, Baltimore is expected to shift Ray Brown from defensive safety-man to quarterback understudy. Brown, a rookie, sparked Mississippi in the last Sugar Bowl game.

Another one-time quarterback made over into a defensive man, Andy Nelson, also is available, in case Ewbank would have to bleed his defensive unit to that extent.

Windup On Coast

After the Giants, the Colts meet the Bears in Chicago, then Los Angeles and San Francisco here before going west to close out the season against the Rams and 49ers there.

Falkenburg Remains In Critical Condition

Falkenburg, brother of actress Jinx Falkenburg, suffered a broken leg, broken ribs and internal injuries in an automobile crackup last Friday. He moved to Brazil several years ago from Los Angeles.

Monopolize Top Ten

The two conferences virtually monopolized the top ten places in the ratings, leaving room only for Army (No. 3), Oklahoma (No. 6) and the Air Force Academy (No. 10).

For the second straight week LSU, Iowa and Army ran 1-2-3 in the balloting, with not too many points separating them. Then came the implausible Northwestern team, which lost its top ten rating after a defeat by Iowa and regained it by handing Ohio State its first conference defeat in two seasons.

Louisiana State was given the No. 1 position on 82 of the 165 ballots and drew 1,443 points on the usual 10-9-8 etc., point system. Iowa drew 54 first-place votes and 1,379 points and Army drew 1,105 points. Northwestern, without a single vote for first, piled up 815 points.

Auburn, in fifth place, trailed Northwestern by only three points. Then came Oklahoma, Wisconsin, Purdue, Mississippi and Air Force to round out the top ten.

Buckeyes Take Plunge

Colorado, ranked ninth the previous week, dropped clear out of the ratings after a loss to Oklahoma. Ohio State slid from fifth to 16th.

Northwestern takes on Wisconsin in a Big Ten game that could bring another fast shuffle of the ratings and Iowa plays Minnesota, which hasn't won a game.

LSU, cautioned by Coach Paul Dietzel to accept the No. 1 spot with humility, faces a Duke team that almost upset Georgia Tech last week. Army invades Texas to play 13th-ranked Rice.

Auburn vs. Mississippi State, Oklahoma at Iowa State, Mississippi vs. Houston and Air Force at Denver are this week's other games for the leaders.

MacPhail Declines Comment On Report Of Joining Orioles

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Lee MacPhail, New York Yankee executive, declined comment Tuesday on reports he may be headed for the Baltimore Orioles as general manager.

MacPhail and Paul Richards, field manager and general manager of the Baltimore Baseball team, conferred here Monday. Richards reportedly wants to step down as general manager to give full time to his job as field boss.

MacPhail admitted the huddle with Richards was about a position with the Baltimore club but declined further comment. Richards left for Texas after the talk.

By C. V. BURNS

A BASEBALL PLAYER, who landed a punch that was heard throughout Allegany county 38 years ago, died last week at a local hospital.

The "oldtimers" knew him as "Big Bill" Cretchley because that's the name he used when he played baseball, boxed and wrestled in carnivals. His real name was Calvin Shipes and Crutchley was his mother's maiden name.

BILL CRETCHLEY

"Bill" died at the age of 57.

He first attracted attention here as a sandlot player and it was during a series between Col. Nelson W. Russler's Cumberland Colts and Frostburg in 1920 that he uncorked a haymaker on the person of one Mike Hoban, scrappy outfielder of the Demons, at the Frostburg ball park, in one of the most exciting finishes we've ever seen.

It was the 11th inning of the opener of a five-game series. The Colts had taken a 6-5 lead at the top of that frame. Hoban had been "riding" Cretchley throughout the game and as the Demons came off the field for their turn at bat, Mike made a remark as he passed "Bill" at second base. Cretchley lashed out with a terrific right and down went his tormentor. The knockdown was a signal for the fans to swarm on the playing field and as they continued to mill about Umpire Sammy Morgan called the game. Several Cumberland players grabbed bats and backed up against the grandstand ready to defend themselves in case the action came their way.

The teams decided to start the series over the following weekend. Mike and Bill continued to play but there was no more trouble.

We recall the Hoban - Cretchley incident so vividly because we scored that game August 15, 1920.

Emmett Flynn, now Cumberland chief of police, and Jesse "Lefty" Bell were the Cumberland pitchers in that game. Other local players in that series included Henry "Ditty" Stitcher, Nate Dreyer, Bobby Blair, Russell "Mike" Diehl, George "Brindle" Long, Walter Speicher, Joe Buskey, Raymond Beck, Joe Zapf, Allan Underdonk and Joe Becker. Among the Frostburg players we recall were "Blackie" Matese, Bill Darrow, Johnny Rose, Fay Anderson, "Skeets" McKenzie, Bill Craze and "Ike" Wilhelm.

"Big Bill" was the idol of followers of the Liberty Athletic Club on the days when that sandlot team played to large crowds each weekend on the Rolling Mill diamond in the early 1920s.

He was the team's cleanup hitter, was a classy fly chaser with a powerful arm and took his regular turn on the rubber for the teams managed by Paul K. Collins and Irvin "Cogs" Hamilton.

Cretchley loved to argue and as a result had many hecklers. He had a quick temper and when they got "on" him he would keep the place in an uproar by talking back to the spectators while at the plate, on the mound or in the oufield.

Whenever a carnival hit town you could bet the big fellow would be on the scene challenging wrestlers with the show. He appeared in many grappling exhibitions and it is believed he suffered a neck injury that continued to bother him later in life.

"Bill" tried his hand at boxing but his career was a short one because he made the mistake of challenging a young middleweight named Patsy Gainer. Bobby Greene had whipped Gainer and it was decreed that Patsy dispose of other local contenders before getting another shot at Greene. Gainer obliged by stopping three challengers and Cretchley was one of the unfortunate victims.

We always liked the big fellow. In fact, he was one of the most colorful local athletes we have known.

His many friends are going to miss him.

BELIEVE IT or not, but quite a few local football fans thought that was a typographical error in Saturday's News when the list of football scores showed Dauphin High of East Harrisburg, Pa., beating Mel Henry's North Hagerstown High gridders by the score of 60-0.

Fort Hill and Allegany followers, especially, were stunned because the Hubs held the Sentinels to a 6-6 tie and beat the Campers by the score of 32-12.

"You sure that wasn't a college team?" one fan asked.

EDDIE BLIND, the genial Canadian, who serves as starter at Fairgo and other Maryland race tracks, won't run into trouble making the Russian horsemen understand the conditions and rules under which the International is run at Laurel on November 11.

He has a personal interpreter on his regular staff in Johnny Silow, who has been one of Blind's assistant starters for many years, and understands and speaks Russian well. Silow has appeared at Fairgo with Blind the past several years.

FAIRMONT (W. Va.) apparently is in the same position that Cumberland was in 1951 when a series of bad pro shows killed off boxing here.

Last week, only the performance of boxers in the prelims prevented the show there from being a complete flop, according to Al Ludwick, Fairmont Times writer.

Holly Mims and Johnny Cunningham, the Baltimore trial horse, were in the main go and failed to please. "They pummeled each other about the arms and shoulders but they were fooling no one," Ludwick wrote.

"After the main go, referee Rocky Marciano held the crowd a little less than spellbound with a little bit of nothing that went along the line — 'the cleanest match I've refereed . . . these boys are real professionals' and more of the same," Ludwick continued.

The Fairmont writer said the fans can see less bad bouts on television without leaving the house. No cash charge, either.

DO YOU KNOW that the principal regional manufacturer of hula hoops is located near Odenton, Anne Arundel county, Md.?

The things are made by extruding (forcing) dyed and melted linear polyetheline plastic through dies into straight tubing —then bending the cooled tubing into hoops around wooden forms that measure 15, 25 or 36 inches in diameter. The ends are bradded together through an insert plug.

The hula hoop craze began in Australia in August and whirled across the United States from west to east.

WHEN Allegany High School's football team plays Moorefield here November 14 it will mark their first meeting in 11 years. The Campers and Jackets met here in 1946 and 1947 and the locals won both games, 19-0 and 14-12.

The LaSalle - Moorefield game here Saturday night is the first meeting of these schools in football since 1946. The Hardy countians hold a 3-2 edge in this series. Two games ended in scoreless ties.

LaSalle first met Moorefield in 1928, the year football was started at the North Centre street school and Arthur Slocum was the coach. It was the second game on the Explorers' schedule and they won 18-3.

ALTOONA Catholic High's Marauders, who host LaSalle on November 14, won a 9-6 thriller from Johnstown Catholic High Friday night on a fourth quarter field goal by Don Smith, second string back.

Altoona's record is 5-2 for the season.

MARTINSBURG'S Bulldogs apparently were headed for their first victory last Friday after five setbacks until Coach "Eck" Miers' Warren County Wildcats blocked a Jimmy McGowan punt.

Center Tom Curry picked up the ball on the Martinsburg 13 and raced into the end zone for a touchdown with two minutes 50 seconds to play to give Front Royal a 12-7 win.

Kerkorian Recalled By Colts

Unitas Sidelined Due To Injuries

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts today recalled former quarterback Gary Kerkorian from his law practice in California to help fill in for the injured Johnny Unitas.

The Colts management confirmed reluctantly today that Unitas, the free-flinging signal-caller who has led the Colts to six straight victories, will be out of action for three to four weeks.

They previously contended that his injury in last Sunday's game with the Green Bay Packers amounted only to a bruise and that he would be ready for the Giants next Sunday in New York.

Kerkorian was the No. 1 quarterback for the Colts in 1954, his first year out of Stanford.

He dropped off the squad after the 1955 season to devote full time to his law studies at Georgetown Law School.

By that time George Shaw, from Oregon, had gained the No. 1 slot, and Shaw's understudy was a cast-off from the Pittsburgh Steelers who had been fooling around with a sandlot team.

During the '56 season, Shaw's knee was banged up in a good, hard tackle. Since Unitas was untried, the Colts called over to Washington to Kerkorian and asked him to come back to work —part time — while he continued his studies.

Threw Two Passes

He did. But he only got to throw two passes. He completed both, but by that time, Unitas had caught fire, and moved into the front line.

So at the end of the '56 season, Gary stepped down again.

Now the ever-ready Kerkorian is coming back again. He is due in from Inglewood, Calif., in time to start workouts Thursday. Whether he's in sufficient shape to play against the Giants Sunday is up to Colts Coach Weeb Ewbank.

Ewbank explained why the front office wanted to keep Unitas' true condition hidden from the Giants, who last weekend tripped up previously unbeaten Cleveland, 21-17.

"We kept quiet and asked (the team physician) to do the same because we wanted the Giants to get ready for John all week and then spring George on them," he said.

Brown Is Available

Even with Shaw and Kerkorian on tap, Baltimore is expected to shift Ray Brown from defensive safety-man to quarterback understudy. Brown, a rookie, sparked Mississippi in the last Sugar Bowl game.

Another one-time quarterback made over into a defensive man, Andy Nelson, also is available, in case Ewbank would have to bleed his defensive unit to that extent.

Windup On Coast

After the Giants, the Colts meet the Bears in Chicago, then Los Angeles and San Francisco here before going west to close out the season against the Rams and 49ers there.

Falkenburg Remains In Critical Condition

Falkenburg, brother of actress Jinx Falkenburg, suffered a broken leg, broken ribs and internal injuries in an automobile crackup last Friday. He moved to Brazil several years ago from Los Angeles.

Northeast Pupils Study Conservation On Farms

Among a wide variety of conservation programs conducted during the month of October in Allegany County was a tour of two Union Grove area farms by some 27 fifth and sixth grade pupils from the Northeast School at Bowman's Addition.

Martin M. Gordon, soil conservation aide of the Soil Conservation Service here, told the Allegany County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors at its recent meeting that the Northeast pupils, accompanied by five adults, visited the farms of R. W. Ferguson and A. W. Pennel.

Mr. Gordon also reported that during Maryland Land Week, which started October 6, over 800 persons were contacted. Some 500 letters were mailed to county farmers and about 70 persons attended a mid-week meeting at the LaVale Fire Hall.

Conservation programs were conducted during October for 4 I. clubs, FFA chapters, schools and Girl Scouts.

Four more farmers signed up in October as district cooperators. One of these farms, 101 acres, is in the Piney Plains area and belongs to Donald Boyer of Frederick. He is interested in a general conservation plan with tree planting and grassland farming.

Howard W. Creek, who owns 46 acres in the Piney Plains sector, also signed up last month. He is interested in contour strip cropping, tree planting and general conservation.

Calvin Haflpenny, who owns 150 acres off the Oldtown Road, is another new cooperator. He seeks a livestock water pond and better grass. Joseph Rowe, owner of only four acres on Mason Road, also signed up so an open drainage ditch could be constructed.

Contour strips were laid out on the farms of Eric Boyer, 20 acres, at Piney Plains, and Wilbert Paul, eight acres, at Mt. Savage. Open drainage ditches were constructed on the farm of E. L. Fagan, Union Grove, and Mr. Rowe, his neighbor.

Five farm ponds for livestock were completed in October. They are on the farms of James Fry, Green Ridge; Harry Barton, Pinto; Marshall Porter, Eckhart; Elmer Clise, Midland, and Dr. Jonathan Eckhart of Eckhart

Kenneth M. Stone, soil scientist, reported having mapped 1,580 acres in the Green Ridge area. Paul Edwards, a Soil Conservation Service trainee from Hagerstown, received three days of soils training here in October.

In usually Republican Kansas, Democratic Gov. George Docking won re-election, the first of his party ever to accomplish that feat.

The spotlight shifted to California once the New York verdict was in. The first news there was bad for the Republicans—though far too inconclusive to be regarded as a trend.

First precincts reporting showed Sen. Knowland and Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, each campaigning for the other's job, running behind their Democratic opponents.

Ohio voters meantime elected onetime Federal Price Administrator Michael V. DiSalle governor, unseating the Republican incumbent, C. William O'Neill. In addition, Ohio's veteran GOP Sen. John W. Bricker was running behind in his re-election bid, and Ohio voters overwhelmingly rejected a right-to-work amendment.

The Democrats knocked off a GOP-held governorship in Maryland too, with J. Millard Tawes the winner over Rep. James Devereux. However Baltimore's Democratic Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro conceded defeat to Sen. J. Glenn Beall in the state's Senate race.

Two leading contenders for the 1960 Democratic presidential nominations won re-election handily—Senators John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Stuart Symington of Missouri. Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, another Democratic hopeful, was well ahead in his re-election bid.

New York Senate race was a dogfight but finally Rep. Kenneth Keating, Republican, beat Frank S. Hogan, Democratic District Attorney of Manhattan.

In Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh's Democratic Mayor David Lawrence kept steadily ahead in the race for governor but Gov. George M. Leader, also a Democrat, had a thin lead over Rep. Hugh Scott.

In Arizona, GOP Sen. Barry Goldwater, probably the Senate's most outspoken critic of many union leaders, won re-election over the onetime Senate Democratic chieftain, Gov. Ernest W. McFarland.

contests in the legislature by defeating Lloyd Simpkins, past House judiciary chairman, 4,181 to 3,927.

Other incumbents defeated were Harry A. Cole in Baltimore's Fourth District by J. Alvin Jones, Sherman E. Flanagan of Carroll by Edward O. Weant Jr., and Clifford Friend of Garrett by Bernard I. Gonder.

Cole, Maryland's first Negro state senator, was licked by another member of his race in what amounted to another victory by Democratic leader Jack Pollack. All six delegates backed by Pollack also were elected.

The one Republican upset was registered by Edward T. Hall in winning the Calvert Senate seat from H. Gordon Trueman. The place was vacated by Louis L. Goldstein who was elected comptroller on the Democratic ticket.

The Democrats replaced former Republicans in the Senate from Charles, Frederick and Washington counties also.

In Washington, they also won the six House seats. It was the first time in the county history that all legislators will be from the same political party.

One of the Senate fights watched with interest was in Anne Arundel County. Democratic Sen. Louis N. Phipps won reelection over William B. Prendergast by 18,758 to 16,123.

Woman Sues For $3,000

A $3,000 damage suit growing out of a claim against the estate of the late Loren H. Chaney was filed Monday in Allegany County Circuit Court by Wanda Lee Sanders, RFD 1, Valley Road.

The plaintiff, through Attorney Paul W. Barnett, brought the suit against Courtney E. Chaney, 421 Wempe Drive, and Grace M. Wotring, 204 Fulton Street, co-administrators of the estate of Loren H. Chaney.

The woman contended that Loren H. Chaney moved into her home on September 4, 1955, and at his request she provided his food, shelter, board and medical care from September 4, 1955, until February 14, 1958, except for two intervals. One was from June 3, 1956, until August 6, 1956, and the other from May 30, 1957, until July 14, 1957.

She said that Mr. Chaney made repeated promises to pay her but was struck by his final illness before the payment could be made. The plaintiff added that she has made repeated requests of the co-administrators of the estate for payment but has been refused.

Parents Urged To Tell The Truth

"Parents should not lie to their children," stated Archa O. Dart in his third lecture in a series on the home in the Seventh-day Adventist Church Monday.

In his opening remarks, he reminded that parents deliberately lie to their children by not being truthful to them when they ask questions on origins of life. He emphasized that each time a child asks a question that it should be answered truthfully and in as simple language as can be employed.

Dart made clear "that no wise parent will allow their children to spend the night away from home with their teenage friends." Dart said that children develop attitudes through the five senses and that they learn from example rather than by word and the good example of the mother and father in the home is the deciding factor in the attitudes that children form.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Eating For Beauty

The old adage "beauty is only skin deep" became outmoded when eating-for-beauty was discovered.

Beautiful skin is constantly being created from the foods you eat. The skin is the largest organ of the body, and because it is alive — continually at work and being remade — it can be improved.

You can eat for natural enjoyment, but with a new technical skill. By that we mean one that can create beautiful skin and hair, superior health and vitality. Our recommended "Beauty Diet" includes menus which will help you lose two pounds or better each week — few doctors will allow you more than this — and menus which will help you gain one, or stay the way you are. Simply follow the individual instructions. Send for your copy today, inclosing ten cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Address your request to me, in care of this newspaper.

You must get the following vitamins and minerals for a well-nourished skin, properly cared for internally: Vitamin A — for healthy outside and inside skin resiliency; Vitamin B — to guard against all skin troubles and especially nervous disorders; Vitamin C — for young skin firmness; Vitamin D — for healthy skin; Vitamin G — for fresh-looking skin; Calcium — for texture; Iron — color; Sulphur — for brightness; Iodine — to prevent early wrinkling; Silicon — for resilience; Manganese — for elasticity.

Behind The News In Business

by Leslie Gould

NEW YORK — Shares in two Stock Exchange listed companies have had unusual markets in which the investing public has been whipsawed.

The companies are U. S. Hoffman Machinery and Artloom Carpet.

The two companies have the same board chairman — Hyman Marcus.

Marcus is one of the leaders in the business "take-over" field. He returned U. S. Hoffman from a leading maker of pants pressing machines into a complex of 23 companies ranging from candy to aviation accessories.

Marcus moved into the U. S. Hoffman picture in 1953 but latched onto Artloom only this June by buying nearly 10 per cent of the outstanding stock.

In addition to these "responsibilities" Marcus is a limited partner in the Stock Exchange firm of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co.

That is a comparatively new association. He became a "money partner" in August 1956, right after selling his controlling interest in U. S. Hoffman to three investment trusts associated with the Value Line. The Value Line is a stock advisory service headed by Arnold Bernhard.

Another big block of the stock was sold "for investment" to the owners of a publishing enterprise taken over by U. S. Hoffman. The SEC later secretly o.k.'d resale of this stock to the public. There was never any disclosure of this cover up by the SEC until this column exposed it last year. In the meantime the Hoffman shares had a sharp decline.

U. S. Hoffman shares have had two split ups—3 for 1 in 1955 and 2 for 1 in 1956. From the high of $22.12½ after the 1956 split up, the shares fell to $5.75 in 1957. This year the range has been from $16.50 to $6.12½. The current market is around $10.75.

Artloom's erratic performance has been this year. It has gone from a low of $3.75 to a high of $27.62½, and then it fell out of bed. The latter stages of the run up were caused by a squeeze on the shorts, somewhat reminiscent of E. L. Bruce on the American Stock Exchange.

In a week it broke nearly $17. This started the SEC investigating and it believes it has the answer. Anyway, it is charging that an over-the-counter brokerage firm was making "wash sales" and that the man behind this firm is Marcus. Marcus denies this. The court should be able to find out the right answer.

Whatever the answer, the Stock Exchange is going to come out of it with a red face.

The Stock Exchange did nothing in the early gyrations in U. S. Hoffman. Nor has it done anything about the recent moves in Artloom.

What has happened in these stocks hardly comes under the Exchange's invest in America program. This program calls for the Stock Exchange to see that its facilities are not so used. These are not isolated cases. There were Penn-Texas, Bon Ami and United Dye & Chemical.

The Penn-Texas stock was tipped around $20 by a Stock Exchange firm, which was getting substantial fees from the company as a "financial adviser." The stock later fell to $2.75 and is now around $8.

Today's hand witnessed an interesting contest between the declarer and his opponents which was finally decided in favor of the defenders when South was not up to the final effort.

North had a close decision between three no trump and four spades over his partner's three spade rebid. His tenuous club stopper finally influenced him to choose the suit contract.

West opened the four of diamonds and this was permitted to ride to East's ace. A quick glance at the dummy made it clear to East that if the contract were to be beaten, the defenders would have to garner tricks in the club suit.

It seemed likely that declarer had the king of clubs as part of his outside strength, since all other high cards were accounted for. However, there was a ray of hope. Partner might have a doubleton club and a quick trump trick, which would permit the defeat of the contract.

In order to avail himself of such a holding, East led a low club which declarer ducked and won with the queen in dummy. This sequence of plays alerted declarer to the danger of a club ruff, so he cautiously abandoned the trump finesse.

Down came the ace and another trump. West, upon winning the second lead of the suit, returned a club. East cashed his club ace and returned the suit, which West ruffed for the setting trick.

East's underlead of the club ace should have been a warning to declarer to return to his hand with the ace of trumps and take the proven diamond finesse in order to discard a club on the king. West, in with the king of spades, will lead a club, but declarer can ruff high enough on the return to shut him out.

County Democrats Pull Upset

Change Trend As Four Win Posts Here

Walsh, Mason Lead Ticket In Their Races

Reversing a 39-year tradition, Allegany County voters yesterday gave Democratic candidates control of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners and elected two members of the minority party to the House of Delegates.

The major upset came as 25,810 of the county's 37,623 voters went to the polls on a crisp and sunny autumn day which brought out 68.6 per cent of the vote.

Fuller Barnard Jr., 32, a World War I veteran, elected state's attorney in 1919 by a majority of about 1,000 votes, was the last member of the Democratic Party to win a place in a county election.

Get Out Vote

Since the Republican Party has a book majority of 5,212 voters, it was evident that the Democratic Party, which has been running its candidates as "sacrificial lambs" for many years here, both got out more of its vote and persuaded many Republican voters to cross party lines.

William Walsh, Democrat, making his first political venture, topped the ticket in the House of Delegates contest with 12,299 votes.

The other Democratic candidate who won a place on the Allegany County Delegation was Thomas F. Conlon Jr., who finished in fifth place with 10,871 votes.

Finishing in the winning column were four Republicans—Lester B. Reed, second with 11,167 votes; Fred B. Driscoll, third with 11,050; Noel Speir Cook, fourth with 10,963 ballots and Estel C. Kelley, sixth with 10,318 votes.

Capture Control

Democratic candidates captured control of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners with the election of John Tucker Mason and John J. Rowan.

Mr. Mason led the Commissioners ticket with 12,171 votes and Mr. Rowan finished in third place with 10,801 ballots. Republican William A. Wilson won second place with 11,605 votes.

Veteran Sheriff Edward R. Muir won an easy victory over Democrat Howard P. Loughrie by a vote of 11,906 to 10,420.

County Voters Switch Parties In Top Battles

Three Republicans, Two Demos Backed

Republican Senator J. Glenn Beall and Democratic gubernatorial candidate J. Millard Tawes were outstanding favorites yesterday as Allegany County voters went to the polls.

Voters of this predominantly Republican county gave slimmer majorities to DeWitt S. Hyde, Republican candidate for Congress and gave a slight edge to John A. Derr, GOP candidate for Comptroller while favoring Democrat C. Ferdinand Sybert for reelection as Attorney General.

It was the same type of voting which characterized balloting for county posts, where voters generally ignored party labels to vote for their favorite candidates.

Senator Beall received a 15,045 vote of confidence from voters of the county and a lead of about 6,000 over Thomas D'Alesandro Jr., who polled 9,028 votes in the county.

Rep. Hyde was leading his Democratic opponent John R. Foley 11,860 to 10,625.

The 1,235 lead was less than in 1956, when Rep. Hyde polled 17,417 votes for a 4,712 majority over Mr. Foley.

He lost to Edward J. Ryan in Allegany County in 1954 by 3,278 votes and won a majority of 3,820 in 1952 over Stella Werner.

J. Millard Tawes, Democratic candidate for Governor, was in first place with 13,139 here with James P .Devereux trailing with 9,670 votes.

Louis L. Goldstein, Democrat, trailed his Republican opponent, John A. Derr, by 10,116 to 9,944.

C. Ferdinand Sybert, Democrat, was favored for reelection over Robert A. Wallace by 10,363 to 9,781.

Area Industries Work At 75% Of Capacity

Manufacturing plants in the Cumberland area operated at 75 per cent of capacity during May, June and July, according to an Allegheny Regional Advisory Board report.

This activity by the 17 major industries was almost as good as Pittsburgh's 75.1 per cent.

Some of the cities in the region covered by the shipping board were really booming. Typical was Indiana, Pa., where industries operated at 95 per cent of capacity; Orville, Ohio, at 86 per cent; Wheeling, W. Va., 85 per cent, and Morgantown, W. Va., 80 per cent.

In contrast, Altoona, Pa., reported factories were running at 75 per cent of capacity, Johnstown, Pa., 53.4 per cent, and Canton, Ohio, 40 per cent.

Only one of the cities, Youngstown, anticipated a decrease in fall production.

The Cumberland report based on actual payrolls and working force reports by 17 industries to the Chamber of Commerce, noted production was expected to remain the same.

The next report will note the improvement of railroad employment but will be adversely affected by the strike at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant here.

Demo Victory Assured In Tucker County

Staggers, Byrd, Randolph In Lead

With 13 of 19 precincts reported at 10:30 o'clock last night in Tucker County, W. Va., a Democratic victory seemed assured on both the statewide and county level.

Jennings Randolph of Elkins also piled up a commanding lead over his Republican opponent, John D. Hoblitzell Jr. in the race for the unexpired term for United States Senator.

In the battle for the other Senate seat in the West Virginia election Robert C. Byrd, Sophia Democrat, had a 650 vote lead over Chapman Revercomb of Charleston.

Unofficial returns from the 13 Tucker County precincts showed:

FOR U. S. SENATE:
Robert C. Byrd	1,754
Chapman Revercomb	1,104
FOR U. S. SENATE:
(unexpired term):
Jennings Randolph	1,803
John D. Hoblitzell Jr.	1,006
FOR CONGRESSMAN:
Harley O. Staggers	1,912
Dr. Ward W. Keesecker	914

The closest fight in Tucker County appeared to be for the unexpired Secretary of State term between Joe F. Burdett, Point Pleasant Democrat, and Mrs. Rush D. Holt, Weston Republican. Mrs. Holt trailed her Democratic opponent by 362 votes.

For judge of the Supreme Court of Appeals, an unexpired six-year term, Democrat Thornton G. Berry Jr., of Welch, was running well ahead of Republican Max DeBerry from Harrisville. He had 1,620 votes to DeBerry's 1,086 with six precincts still to be heard from.

Harlan M. Calhoun, Moorefield Democrat, held a commanding lead over Robert T. Donley of Morgantown in their fight for the unexpired two-year term for Judge of the Supreme Court of Appeals. Donley trailed by 714 votes.

Unofficial returns were:

STATE SENATOR:
Lloyd L. Shriver	1,560
Dayton R. Stemple	1,159
HOUSE OF DELEGATES:
Ronald L. Hockman	1,612
James W. Michael	1,251

Election officials reported that approximately 50 per cent of the county's 6,000 registered voters went to the polls in yesterday's Democratic landslide

Successful Democratic Candidates "Feel Fine"

"It feels just fine."

This was the reaction last night of William Walsh, who led the ticket in the race for House of Delegates to become one of four Democrats elected to office in Republican-dominated Allegany County for the first time in 39 years.

Mr. Walsh, entering politics for the first time in his career, said in a brief statement to the press that "we wish to thank all of the voters, both Republican and Democrat, and especially the Democratic workers, who aided and supported us this election day.

"We are humbly grateful for the honor bestowed upon us and we feel all of the Democrats elected will do their utmost to merit the confidence placed in us. We also want to ask the Republican candidates who were elected to office for their fullest cooperation during our term in office."

John J. Rowan, one of two Democrats named to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners said he "would first like to thank all the Democrat and Republican friends for this great honor. The problems of the county commissioners are many but we feel with the cooperation of all these problems can be solved. We will work for the best interests of everyone."

The newly-elected commissioner then added that he wanted to thank all the labor organizations, especially COPE, which worked so hard and diligently for him during this election.

Late last night Thomas F. Conlon Jr., elected to the Allegany County delegation along with Mr. Walsh, and John Tucker Mason, named county commissioner, were not available for comment.

Pendleton Co. Demos Sweep Entire Ticket

Pendleton County, a normally Democratic area, by about three to two, piled up Democratic majorities for all candidates in Tuesday's balloting as 2,977 of the registered 4606 voters went to the polls.

Judge Harlan Calhoun of Moorefield led the entire slate with a total of 1887, in his bid for election to the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals. Harley Staggers of Keyser polled second high votes with 1909 in his bid for re-election to Congress.

The second meeting on January 19, 1856, found George Haller serving as high priest, C. H. Orr as king, O. W. Lackey as scribe, I. W. Weaver, treasurer, and F. A. Mason, secretary.

No minutes exist for meetings from then until February 1958, when regular meetings were resumed.

The chapter was chartered on November 9, 1858, and the first meeting as a chartered organization was held on November 24, 1858.

Razing Plans Announced By Housing Unit

Mayor Says City To Press For Action

Mayor J. Edwin Keech said yesterday the Housing Authority of the City of Cumberland will proceed with plans for razing a number of vacant dwellings on the site of the city's third low-rent public housing project.

He said James B. Raines, executive secretary of the housing authority, reported it would not be necessary to hold a meeting in connection with the dwellings.

Mayor Keech was told that S. Russ Minter, architect for the 80-unit project on Oldtown Road, has been asked to prepare specifications needed for advertising for bids for the demolition of the structures.

But after the specifications are prepared, they must be sent to Washington for approval by federal housing authorities.

Mayor Keech said the Housing Authority has taken action and the City has taken necessary steps and it is "now a Washington deal."

He said that if approval for the demolition is not given in a reasonable time, the City of Cumberland will contact Washington.

The city has been pressing for action on the abandoned dwellings, saying they are a fire hazard and a danger to children who might wander into them. On Monday, city officials received backing from the City Health Board, which termed them also a health hazard.

Mayor Keech said city officials want the area cleaned up and pointed out that the Housing Authority will have to take the buildings down anyway before it can do anything toward construction.

He added the City of Cumberland will not let up on its demand for the removal of the buildings until it gets action.

Few Ballot On Amendments

Only a few more than 10 per cent of the Allegany County voters who went to the polls yesterday bothered to vote on the three constitutional amendments on the ballot and those who did rejected the first amendment.

More than 25,000 countians balloted but fewer than 3,000 of them registered their views on the amendments.

The one they opposed would have allowed the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore to increase or decrease the salary of any appointed public officer. They favored the one which specifies the manner in which a state's attorney shall be appointed when a vacancy occurred. Also backed was the third amendment, which would abolish the position of state librarian.

80-Year GOP Hold Broken In Garrett

Democrats Seat County Board And House Majorities

Bernard I. Gonder Sr., Democratic candidate for State Senator from Garrett County, who had the endorsement of a number of prominent Republicans, defeated the Republican incumbent, Senator Clifford Friend by a margin of 310 votes.

For the first time in 80 years, and the first time in the political history of Garrett County, voters elected Democrats to the House of Delegates. They captured two seats in the House of Delegates, leaving the Republicans with a minority seat of one.

The Democrats, with the help of Republican line crossing, also captured two of three seats on the Board of County Commissioners.

Elbert E. Buckel and Leslie E. Savage are the Democrats elected to the House of Delegates.

Carl A. Schell and Elra F. Garletts are the Democrats elected to the Board of County Commissioners.

The last time a Democrat was elected to the Garrett County board was in 1927. He is Harvey Gortner.

Returns In Early

There are 6,019 registered Republicans and 3,612 registered Democrats in Garrett County. This was the first time voting machines were used and Red House was the first precinct to report at 7:40 p. m. All returns were in election headquarters by 9:30 p. m. and a tabulation was completed, unofficially, by 10:30 p. m.

In the strongly Republican county, it was evident as early returns came in that many Republicans were crossing the party line and Democrats made a far better showing than had been seen here for years.

In the contest for U.S. Senate between J. Glenn Beall and Thomas D'Alesandro, Beall carried the county by 1,835 votes, or more than 1,000 fewer than he and his supporters had predicted.

The other major contest, that of the representative to the 86th Congress from the Sixth Maryland District was also more closely waged than many had expected.

John R. Foley, Democrat, tallied a total of 2,304 votes, while his opponent, Republican incumbent DeWitt S. Hyde, managed to hold a substantial total of 4,423, to lead the entire ticket.

Staggers Tops Demo Sweep In Mineral County

GOP Stronghold Crosses Line

Mineral County, generally considered a Republican stronghold, showed a decided favor for Democrats yesterday as over 7,200 voters went to the polls.

Harley O. Staggers, a native of the county and resident of Keyser, seeking re-election to Congress, easily led the ticket with 4625 votes as his GOP opponent, Dr. Ward W. Keesecker of Berkeley Springs, trailed with 2580.

Rep. Staggers set the pace as the Democrats carried six of the nine major contests in the county.

Judge Harlan Calhoun of Moorefield, seeking election to the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals, defeated his Republican opponent, Robert T. Donley of Morgantown, by 740 votes.

Jennings Randolph of Elkins, a former Congressman, polled 3784 while his GOP opponent, John D. Hoblitzell Jr. of Ravenswood, trailed with 3225 for an unexpired term in the U. S. Senate.

The county favored Republicans John H. Bane for county commissioner; Joseph William Kessell for the House of Delegates, and Helen Holt for secretary of state. All else went Democratic.

County Democrats Pull Upset

Change Trend As Four Win Posts Here

Walsh, Mason Lead Ticket In Their Races

Reversing a 39-year tradition, Allegany County voters yesterday gave Democratic candidates control of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners and elected two members of the minority party to the House of Delegates.

The major upset came as 25,810 of the county's 37,623 voters went to the polls on a crisp and sunny autumn day which brought out 68.6 per cent of the vote.

Fuller Barnard Jr., 32, a World War I veteran, elected state's attorney in 1919 by a majority of about 1,000 votes, was the last member of the Democratic Party to win a place in a county election.

Get Out Vote

Since the Republican Party has a book majority of 5,212 voters, it was evident that the Democratic Party, which has been running its candidates as "sacrificial lambs" for many years here, both got out more of its vote and persuaded many Republican voters to cross party lines.

William Walsh, Democrat, making his first political venture, topped the ticket in the House of Delegates contest with 12,299 votes.

The other Democratic candidate who won a place on the Allegany County Delegation was Thomas F. Conlon Jr., who finished in fifth place with 10,871 votes.

Finishing in the winning column were four Republicans—Lester B. Reed, second with 11,167 votes; Fred B. Driscoll, third with 11,050; Noel Speir Cook, fourth with 10,963 ballots and Estel C. Kelley, sixth with 10,318 votes.

Capture Control

Democratic candidates captured control of the Board of Allegany County Commissioners with the election of John Tucker Mason and John J. Rowan.

Mr. Mason led the Commissioners ticket with 12,171 votes and Mr. Rowan finished in third place with 10,801 ballots. Republican William A. Wilson won second place with 11,605 votes.

Veteran Sheriff Edward R. Muir won an easy victory over Democrat Howard P. Loughrie by a vote of 11,906 to 10,420.

The first returns were received at 7:20 p. m. from District 4, Precinct 1, at Kingsley Methodist Church.

County Voters Switch Parties In Top Battles

Three Republicans, Two Demos Backed

Republican Senator J. Glenn Beall and Democratic gubernatorial candidate J. Millard Tawes were outstanding favorites yesterday as Allegany County voters went to the polls.

Voters of this predominantly Republican county gave slimmer majorities to DeWitt S. Hyde, Republican candidate for Congress and gave a slight edge to John A. Derr, GOP candidate for Comptroller while favoring Democrat C. Ferdinand Sybert for reelection as Attorney General.

It was the same type of voting which characterized balloting for county posts, where voters generally ignored party labels to vote for their favorite candidates.

Senator Beall received a 15,045 vote of confidence from voters of the county and a lead of about 6,000 over Thomas D'Alesandro Jr., who polled 9,028 votes in the county.

Rep. Hyde was leading his Democratic opponent John R. Foley 11,860 to 10,625.

The 1,235 lead was less than in 1956, when Rep. Hyde polled 17,417 votes for a 4,712 majority over Mr. Foley.

He lost to Edward J. Ryan in Allegany County in 1954 by 3,278 vote and won a majority of 3,820 in 1952 over Stella Werner.

J. Millard Tawes, Democratic candidate for Governor, was in first place with 13,139 here with James P. Devereux trailing with 9,670 votes.

Louis L. Goldstein, Democrat, trailed his Republican opponent, John A. Derr, by 10,116 to 9,944.

C. Ferdinand Sybert, Democrat, was favored for reelection over Robert A. Wallace by 10,363 to 9,781.

Area Industries Work At 75% Of Capacity

Manufacturing plants in the Cumberland area operated at 75 per cent of capacity during May, June and July, according to an Allegheny Regional Advisory Board report.

This activity by the 17 major industries was almost as good as Pittsburgh's 75.1 per cent.

Some of the cities in the region covered by the shipping board were really booming. Typical was Indiana, Pa., where industries operated at 95 per cent of capacity; Orrville, Ohio, at 86 per cent; Wheeling, W. Va., 85 per cent, and Morgantown, W. Va., 80 per cent.

In contrast, Altoona, Pa., reported factories were running at 75 per cent of capacity, Johnstown, Pa., 53.4 per cent, and Canton, Ohio, 40 per cent.

The Cumberland report based on actual payrolls and working force reports by 17 industries to the Chamber of Commerce, noted production was expected to remain the same.

The next report will note the improvement of railroad employment but will be adversely affected by the strike at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant here.

Demo Victory Assured In Tucker County

Staggers, Byrd, Randolph In Lead

With 13 of 19 precincts reported at 10:30 o'clock last night in Tucker County, W. Va., a Democratic victory seemed assured on both the statewide and county level.

Harley O. Staggers, Keyser Democratic congressman from the Second Congressional District, more than doubled his lead over Dr. Ward W. Keesecker of Berkeley Springs in his bid for re-election.

Jennings Randolph of Elkins also piled up a commanding lead over his Republican opponent, John D. Hoblitzell Jr. in the race for the unexpired term for United States Senator.

In the battle for the other Senate seat in the West Virginia election Robert C. Byrd, Sophia Democrat, had a 650 vote lead over Chapman Revercomb of Charleston.

Unofficial returns from the 13 Tucker County precincts showed:

FOR U. S. SENATE:
Robert C. Byrd	1,754
Chapman Revercomb	1,104
FOR U. S. SENATE:
(unexpired term):
Jennings Randolph	1,803
John D. Hoblitzell Jr.	1,006
FOR CONGRESSMAN:
Harley O. Staggers	1,912
Dr. Ward W. Keesecker	914

The closest fight in Tucker County appeared to be for the unexpired Secretary of State term between Joe F. Burdett, Point Pleasant Democrat, and Mrs. Rush D. Holt, Weston Republican. Mrs. Holt trailed her Democratic opponent by 362 votes.

For judge of the Supreme Court of Appeals, an unexpired six-year term, Democrat Thornton G. Berry Jr., of Welch, was running well ahead of Republican Max DeBerry from Harrisville. He had 1,620 votes to DeBerry's 1,086 with six precincts still to be heard from.

Harlan M. Calhoun, Moorefield Democrat, held a commanding lead over Robert T. Donley of Morgantown in their fight for the unexpired two-year term for Judge of the Supreme Court of Appeals. Donley trailed by 714 votes.

Unofficial returns were:

STATE SENATOR:
Lloyd L. Shriver	1,560
Dayton R. Stemple	1,159
HOUSE OF DELEGATES:

Successful Democratic Candidates "Feel Fine"

"It feels just fine."

This was the reaction last night of William Walsh, who led the ticket in the race for House of Delegates to become one of four Democrats elected to office in Republican-dominated Allegany County for the first time in 39 years.

Mr. Walsh, entering politics for the first time in his career, said in a brief statement to the press that "we wish to thank all of the voters, both Republican and Democrat, and especially the Democratic workers, who aided and supported us this election day.

"We are humbly grateful for the honor bestowed upon us and we feel all of the Democrats elected will do their utmost to merit the confidence placed in us. We also want to ask the Republican candidates who were elected to office for their fullest cooperation during our term in office."

John J. Rowan, one of two Democrats named to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners said he "would first like to thank all the Democrat and Republican friends for this great honor. The problems of the county commissioners are many but we feel with the cooperation of all these problems can be solved. We will work for the best interests of everyone."

The newly-elected commissioner then added that he wanted to thank all the labor organizations, especially COPE, which worked so hard and diligently for him during this election.

Late last night Thomas F. Conlon Jr., elected to the Allegany County delegation along with Mr. Walsh, and John Tucker Mason, named county commissioner, were not available for comment.

Pendleton Co. Demos Sweep Entire Ticket

Pendleton County, a normally Democratic area, by about three to two, piled up Democratic majorities for all candidates in Tuesday's balloting as 2,977 of the registered 4606 voters went to the polls.

Judge Harlan Calhoun of Moorefield led the entire slate with a total of 1887, in his bid for election to the West Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals. Harley Staggers of Keyser polled second high votes with 1909 in his bid for re-election to Congress.

Razing Plans Announced By Housing Unit

Mayor Says City To Press For Action

Mayor J. Edwin Keech said yesterday the Housing Authority of the City of Cumberland will proceed with plans for razing a number of vacant dwellings on the site of the city's third low-rent public housing project.

He said James B. Raines, executive secretary of the housing authority, reported it would not be necessary to hold a meeting in connection with the dwellings.

Mayor Keech was told that S. Russ Minter, architect for the 80-unit project on Oldtown Road, has been asked to prepare specifications needed for advertising for bids for the demolition of the structures.

But after the specifications are prepared, they must be sent to Washington for approval by federal housing authorities.

Mayor Keech said the Housing Authority has taken action and the City has taken necessary steps and it is "now a Washington deal."

He said that if approval for the demolition is not given in a reasonable time, the City of Cumberland will contact Washington.

The city has been pressing for action on the abandoned dwellings, saying they are a fire hazard and a danger to children who might wander into them. On Monday, city officials received backing from the City Health Board, which termed them also a health hazard.

Mayor Keech said city officials want the area cleaned up and pointed out that the Housing Authority will have to take the buildings down anyway before it can do anything toward construction.

He added the City of Cumberland will not let up on its demand for the removal of the buildings until it gets action.

Few Ballot On Amendments

Only a few more than 10 per cent of the Allegany County voters who went to the polls yesterday bothered to vote on the three constitutional amendments on the ballot and those who did rejected the first amendment.

More than 25,000 countians balloted but fewer than 3,000 of them registered their views on the amendments.

The one they opposed would have allowed the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore to increase or decrease the salary of any appointed public officer. They favored the one which specifies the manner in which a state's attorney shall be appointed when a vacancy occurred. Also backed was the third amendment, which would abolish the position of state librarian.

Against	1,554

Staggers Tops Demo Sweep In Mineral County

GOP Stronghold Crosses Line

Mineral County, generally considered a Republican stronghold, showed a decided favor for Democrats yesterday as over 7,200 voters went to the polls.

Harley O. Staggers, a native of the county and resident of Keyser, seeking re-election to Congress, easily led the ticket with 4625 votes as his GOP opponent, Dr. Ward W. Keesecker of Berkeley Springs, trailed with 2580.

Rep. Staggers set the pace as the Democrats carried six of the nine major contests in the county.

The county favored Republicans John H. Bane for county commissioner; Joseph William Kessell for the House of Delegates, and Helen Holt for secretary of state. All else went Democratic.

80-Year GOP Hold Broken In Garrett

Democrats Seat County Board And House Majorities

Bernard I. Gonder Sr., Democratic candidate for State Senator from Garrett County, who had the endorsement of a number of prominent Republicans, defeated the Republican incumbent, Senator Clifford Friend by a margin of 310 votes.

For the first time in 80 years, and the first time in the political history of Garrett County, voters elected Democrats to the House of Delegates. They captured two seats in the House of Delegates, leaving the Republicans with a minority seat of one.

The Democrats, with the help of Republican line crossing, also captured two of three seats on the Board of County Commissioners.

Carl A. Schell and Elra F. Garletts are the Democrats elected to the Board of County Commissioners.

The last time a Democrat was elected to the Garrett County board was in 1927. He is Harvey Gortner.

Returns In Early

There are 6,019 registered Republicans and 3,612 registered Democrats in Garrett County. This was the first time voting machines were used and Red House was the first precinct to report at 7:40 p. m. All returns were in election headquarters by 9:30 p. m. and a tabulation was completed, unofficially, by 10:30 p. m.

In the strongly Republican county, it was evident as early returns came in that many Republicans were crossing the party line and Democrats made a far better showing than had been seen here for years.

In the contest for U.S. Senate between J. Glenn Beall and Thomas D'Alesandro, Beall carried the county by 1,835 votes, or more than 1,000 fewer than he and his supporters had predicted.

J. Millard Tawes, candidate for governor, showed his general popularity here, however, as he polled 2,981 votes in this strong GOP bastion, while his opponent, James Patrick Devereux had to be content with 2,460.

The other major contest, that of the representative to the 86th Congress from the Sixth Maryland District was also more closely waged than many had expected.

John R. Foley, Democrat, tallied a total of 2,304 votes, while his opponent, Republican incumbent DeWitt S. Hyde, managed to hold a substantial total of 4,423, to lead the entire ticket.
